

Stakes Are High In Viet Nam War; Kennedy Cautious

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is moving cautiously on Viet Nam because the stakes are high and he sees little room for maneuver.

Through the Washington looking glass, the Diem assault on the Buddhists looks like a bad side-show threatening to spoil the main act.

The main act is the struggle with the Reds—the longest hot fight of the cold war—with ultimate stakes the control of strategic Southeast Asia.

The Kennedy administration figures victory will come in the mean guerrilla war to which America has committed men and massive military aid. But it is increasingly worried that bad government in Saigon will reverse the tide in favor of the Communists.

Big Job For Lodge

The New Frontier urge to "do something" about this has run into the classic problem America has faced before: A deep commitment against the Communist threat, on the one hand; and on the other, a local anti-Communist regime lacking wide support among the people.

U.S. strategists say they see no alternative at present to the leadership of President Ngo Dinh Diem. A priority task of the newly arriving U.S. Ambassador to Saigon, Henry Cabot Lodge, will be to canvass what other choices may be open without weakening the campaign against the Reds.

A month ago, Kennedy at a news conference expressed his personal hope that a solution would be reached in the Diem-Buddhist struggle.

Can't Withdraw

And he said at that time that the United States would not withdraw its support from Diem's government in its war against the Communist guerrillas. He declared: "For us to withdraw from that effort would mean a collapse not only of South Viet Nam but Southeast Asia. So we are going to stay there."

The current situation is traced by U.S. analysts back to the World War II period when Japan occupied the area. Communist Guerrilla leader Ho Chi Minh led a resistance movement against the Japanese and kept up his resistance after the French returned.

The French departure left the United States as the major Western power with interests in the area and the means to stem the Red tide. Washington saw the lush farmland and strategic peninsular location of South Viet Nam as an inviting target for Red China.

In 1954, the United States began a large-scale aid program that is on the way to totaling $2.5 billion the first decade.

Over the first few years of independence, South Viet Nam prospered in relative peace.

Uprising Continues

Then in 1960 the Communists began the large-scale, intensified effort to cripple the country which continues today.

Diem appealed for more U.S. aid in 1961 and Kennedy responded with the stepped-up U.S. program which now finds some 14,000 American military men on the scene.

But by this time Washington had had enough trouble with Diem to demand reforms by the Saigon government in return for increased aid.

Among other things, Diem promised more representative rule, a crackdown on nepotism and corruption, better use of U.S. economic aid, new methods in military training and deployment and greater acceptance of American advice.

U.S. authorities say they have been encouraged by the progress in the fight against the Reds.

But there has been increasing dismay with Diem's authoritarian methods.

Member Of Minority

The Buddhist opposition is regarded here as by far the most serious threat to Diem since he took power. According to the prevailing U.S. assessment, the conflict started along religious lines but has quickly spread into politics with the Buddhist leaders serving as the rallying force for various opposition elements.

Diem, one of a Roman Catholic minority in a country where some 70 per cent of the people are Buddhists, denied religious discrimination.

Then came Wednesday's lightning assault by Diem troops, under a presidential declaration of martial law, storming pagodas and arresting monks by the hundreds.

The U.S. government issued a public condemnation of these "repressive measures against the Vietnamese Buddhist leader," calling them a direct violation of the Diem pledges of peaceful reconciliation with the Buddhists.

But why didn't Kennedy take a positive step to topple Diem—such as chopping off American aid which keeps his government going?

The answer given in official quarters here is that the campaign against the Communists is first priority and no non-Communist replacement for the Diem regime is in sight.

Nonetheless a U.S. policy reassessment is under way accompanied by a close study of the Diem martial law action.

Senate Committee Speeds Bill To Avert Rail Strike

Broad Powers Of Civil Rights Agency Opposed

LANSING (AP)—The controversial question of how much power Michigan's new Civil Rights Commission should have comes up today before a joint legislative subcommittee studying implementation of the recently adopted Constitution.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley already has declared in a formal opinion that the commission will have sweeping powers in several fields, including private housing, and that the legislature cannot blunt its scope.

Petitions Circulated

In opposition to Kelley's stand, a statewide initiative-petition drive has been launched to secure a law that would overrule Kelley's opinion as regards housing. One of the backers of the drive is the Michigan Real Estate Association.

The subcommittee will recommend what laws—if any—may be required to give the commission statutory authority to prevent discrimination.

Kelley contends that the commission is created automatically under the Constitution and that the legislature cannot limit its power.

Two versions of a draft law have been prepared for the subcommittee, however.

Much of the language is taken from the present statutes governing the Fair Employment Practices Commission, which Kelley said will be superseded by the Civil Rights Commission next Jan. 1, when the Constitution goes into effect.

Would Limit Authority

But in the provisions dealing with private housing, one of the drafts would limit the commission's authority to those residences which have accommodations for more than two families.

Progress Made In Ford Dickers

CHICAGO HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP)—Negotiators continue efforts today to solve the 7-day-old strike at Ford Motor Co.'s stamping plant in Chicago Heights.

It was reported after a five-hour meeting Wednesday night that some progress was made between company and United Auto Workers Union officials.

The strike by 3,750 workers started last Friday in protest against health and safety factors at the plant. Negotiators have declined comment on the specific grievances. Company officials estimate that about 27,000 workers in about 20 Ford plants in five states, including Michigan, would be made idle by tonight because various plants must be shut down to balance supplies.

Khrushchev Takes Look At Ruins Of Skopje Earthquake

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Nearly 100,000 persons lined the ruined streets of Skopje today as Soviet Premier Khrushchev drove through miles of wasteland left by the July 26 earthquake.

Under a blazing sun Khrushchev stopped to thank a 500-man Soviet team for their help in clearing the rubble.

He also talked with survivors of the disaster which killed more than 1,000 persons and turned Skopje into a ghost city.

President Tito, his wife and Mrs. Khrushchev accompanied the Soviet leader on the flight from Belgrade to the devastated Macedonian capital.

Skopje was the first stop after Belgrade on Khrushchev's 15-day "working vacation" in Yugoslavia. He arrived in the country two days ago.

Hole To Trapped Miners Misses By Several Feet

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—The new escape hole-drilling missed the underground pocket harboring two of the three trapped coal miners today.

It missed by apparently only a few feet, and rescue crews hoped the miners, Henry Throne, 28, and David Fellin, 58, would be able to pinpoint the drill bit's location.

If they can, it might not be necessary to bore another escape hole.

The first escape hole effort was abandoned late Tuesday when Fellin and Throne reported that it appeared to be cracking the ceiling over the tiny passageway where they have been trapped 331 feet underground for nine days.

The first hole took about 22 hours to drill; the second about 25—not counting the six hours lost Wednesday afternoon when a drive shaft broke.

Rescue Delayed

"We've got a little problem," Gordon Smith, deputy state secretary of mining, informed Throne and Fellin by way of the microphone in the existing six-inch lifeline hole.

"It looks like we've gone to the bottom rock," said Smith. "It looks to me like we hit bottom rock. White stuff is coming up the 12-inch hole."

Previously, anthracite dust had been coming up the drill as it churned with agonizing slowness. Considering that it was at about the proper depth and that Fellin and Throne were known to be trapped in a seam of coal, the coal dust was taken as a sign that the drill was about to break into the prison chamber.

When the drill passed the coal seam and hit solid rock again, it was obvious it had missed.

"White stuff coming up, heh?" Fellin replied.

There seemed to be not the slightest change in his voice—although he and Throne obviously knew it was a staggering blow to their chance of being rescued soon after being trapped for nine days.

No Word On Third Man

At the time the second escape hole missed it seemed the rescue operation was only a fraction away from success.

Fellin, co-owner of the mine, is advising on the rescue operations. He is familiar with nearly every twist and turn of the mine.

As they have been throughout, Throne and Fellin were nonchalant, joking and reminiscing as the bit bore down.

The third man, Louis Bova, 42, is separated from Fellin and Throne by a mass of debris. He is believed about 25 feet from them.

Wednesday Fellin and Throne dug a small, 11-foot tunnel through this debris in the hope of locating Bova, whose fate has remained uncertain since Tuesday.

Two Sides Can't Agree On Issues For Arbitration

WASHINGTON (AP)—With rail negotiations at an impasse, the Senate Commerce Committee begins work today on legislation to avert a nationwide strike next Thursday.

Impelled by a new sense of urgency, the committee may be ready with a bill by early afternoon. Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., planned to confer with Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to see if the Senate will be ready to take up the measure Friday. If not, the bill will be brought up Monday.

Magnuson said that Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, had told him the Senate bill should reach the House early next week.

Negotiations Break Down

Although it held extensive hearings, the Commerce Committee has been hanging fire on legislation proposed by President Kennedy July 22 to avert a strike. The committee hoped that the carriers and the rail unions, negotiating under the eye of the Labor Department, could settle the four-year work rules dispute themselves.

These hopes were dashed Wednesday. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said negotiations had broken down and there was no immediate prospect of reconciliation.

Wirtz told newsmen an exchange of versions of an arbitration agreement, written by the carriers and the unions, had "left significant differences" in the definition of issues for arbitration and procedures to be followed.

"So far, it has proved impossible to reconcile these differences," Wirtz said. Still, he added, the situation does not "foreclose the possibility of further reconciliation."

New Rules Due Aug. 29

J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the carriers, said that as things stand now, the railroads intend to post the new work rules, eliminating thousands of rail jobs, at 12:01 a.m. Aug. 29, "unless Congress takes action to avert a strike."

Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, repeated that the unions have promised to man passenger trains and any others deemed necessary by the President in the event of a strike.

"The carriers have not shown the courtesy to answer our offer," he said.

The railroads contend they have to slash payrolls to eliminate jobs that represent an unnecessary cost. The unions, claiming this would imperil safe and efficient train operations, have pledged to strike as soon as the new work rules are put into effect.

The railroads have approved Kennedy's proposal that the Interstate Commerce Commission be empowered to issue work rules effective for two years unless supplanted by agreements reached by the carriers and the brotherhoods. The unions have opposed the legislation as a form of compulsory arbitration and protested the commission is management-oriented.

Dixie Governors Avoid Argument On Integration

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi strode to the podium at the Southern Governors Conference and said with the air of a Confederate general: "If there ever was a time when we should take a stand, gentlemen, it is today."

Barnett followed three other Dixie governors who condemned federal policy on civil rights and integration issues.

When they had heard Barnett's appeal, the other 10 chief executives applauded politely but that was all. There were no further appeals, no rebel yell.

The damper had been slapped on the touchy issue of civil rights before the conference closed on a superficially harmonious note.

Times Change

A few years ago resolutions like those backed by Barnett and Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama would have had a ringing reception.

"Times are changing," said West Virginia's soft-spoken Gov. W. W. Barron.

He had met Negro demonstrators at the gates of the conference's posh center and shaken hands with them when they marched to protest statements by the vocal segregationist governors.

The significance of the governors' refusal to get into a fight over civil rights and integration was threefold, even according to the chief executives themselves:

1. Only two of the governors—Wallace and Barnett—actively pushed for a showdown. The other governors said they felt nothing could be gained by a debate which nobody would win. They said this was not the time, the place, or the desirable approach.

Feelings More Liberal

2. Many of the Deep South governors show distinct tendencies toward avoiding extremism. A growing number are moderate in their views, although not always publicly.

3. Border-state governors belonging to the conference oppose Wallace's proposals. They—or their constituents—have more liberal feelings on racial issues.

Barron said that even if the Wallace resolutions had been put to a vote, they would have fallen far short of a majority before the conference agreed Tuesday to require unanimous approval of resolutions.

Wedding Mixes Up Family Relations

Republicans Plan To Add Economy In Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans plan a new attempt to write an economy requirement into the tax cut bill although President Kennedy opposes the move and has given new pledges to hold down spending.

In a letter Wednesday to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Kennedy wrote:

"I see no reason for placing any conditions or contingencies on the effectiveness of the second phase of the tax reduction program."

This referred to a Republican move to make the second installment of the proposed tax cut dependent on holding the budget deficit or the national debt to a specified figure.

Two key Republican members of the tax-writing committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin and Rep. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, said, however, the effort will be renewed.

A motion along these lines by Baker lost by only one vote in the committee last week.

Thanking Mills for his work on the bill and urging that remaining congressional action on it be taken promptly, Kennedy wrote that "any delay or contingent feature would substantially reduce the effectiveness of the legislation. This in turn could lead to decreases in revenues...and greater deficits."

The measure approved last week by the Ways and Means Committee asks Congress to provide a net tax relief of close to $11 billion. Kennedy originally suggested $10.3 billion.

Key members of the Senate and House have expressed doubts about passage this year.

Egyptian Wins 60-Mile Swim

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—A United Arab Republic Army major and three-time conqueror of the English Channel has met a new challenge by swimming 60 miles across Lake Michigan from Chicago—a feat that earned him $15,000 in prize money.

Abdel-Latif Abo-Heif, 34, waded to the beach here at dusk Wednesday after spending an unofficial 34 hours and 45 minutes in the water. Sponsors of the race claimed Abo-Heif the world's open water endurance swimming champion.

Abo-Heif, a veteran marathon swimmer and selected as champion of Egypt this year, said he felt fine and full of pep after the swim. But he added the race "was the toughest, the longest and the coldest swim I've ever had."

Some 5,000 persons lined the beach to welcome him, including his wife, Manar.

After spending more than half an hour posing for photographers and answering questions, Abo-Heif was taken to St. Joseph Hospital for examination and then was taken to a Chicago Hospital where he remained under observation overnight.

Only one other swimmer of the 16 who started from Chicago at 8 a.m. Tuesday, finished the race. Ted Erickson, 35, a Chicago chemical engineer, was about one mile out in the lake when Abo-Heif reached shore.

UPCAP To Face Major Decision On Technical Aid

The Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems, facing up to the end of a technical assistance program provided by the Area Redevelopment Administration on Dec. 31, will plan its program of action for 1964 at a meeting Saturday, Sept. 14, at Weber's Resort on Lake Gogebic near Marquette.

Top question of the meeting will be whether the services of Robert Nathan and Associates of Washington, D. C., will be made available to UPCAP again next year by ARA. The contract of Nathan with ARA and UPCAP for 18 months of economic counseling and other technical assistance to the Upper Peninsula economic development agency expires at the end of the year.

To do groundwork for recommendations to UPCAP at its fall meeting, President Lynn Sandberg of L'Anse and Secretary Alram Snyder of Marquette visited Washington Aug. 15 and conferred with ARA and Nathan officials.

To further prepare for the fall conference Sandberg asked the Nathan technical assistance staff assigned to UPCAP, headed by Joseph Revis as senior economist in the Escanaba Office, to do two things:

Reasons For Program

1. Appraise UPCAP project accomplishments.
2. Evaluate UPCAP's project program and determine what projects the agency should concentrate on in the next 6 months before expiration of ARA's contract with Nathan Associates, if a new contract for technical assistance is not to be granted by ARA, which allotted more than $120,000 to the present contract.

Revis has furnished UPCAP with an appraisal and also with a status report on the technical assistance project as of July 15.

"Our two reasons for being here," said Revis, "are to assist UPCAP with economic development and to aid the ARA develop a technique for area development."

"It is our conviction that the technical assistance project has been the medium for UPCAP to generate quite a bit of interest in community development. I think a lot of energy is being mustered now that wasn't here before. When a community knows its goals it has come a long way."

"We have been of major value in educating UPCAP and the public in what economic development really is, have provided useful liaison with ARA in both industrial loans and technical assistance, have helped evaluate local development programs, made it possible for UPCAP to set goals for its own operation, have helped private enterprises in specific cases with financial analyses and cost studies that should result in more jobs."

Progress Reported

"We have provided some assistance to UPCAP in working out its relationship with other groups and have provided contact with other government agencies so that their interest was focused on the problems of the U. P. And we claim a part in placing communities in the Accelerated Public Works program with many projects helped by analysis and many projects now being approved for aid."

Revis mentioned specifically the Copper Harbor marina project, which he said is an important step toward the big Copper Harbor resort development project "that could be a major breakthrough for Upper Peninsula resort development."

Revis said Robert Nathan, head of Nathan Associates, believes UPCAP has created the first real force for development of the Upper Peninsula. (It was formed by 14 of the 15 U. P. county boards of supervisors, which finance it and appoint its membership.) The more effective UPCAP becomes, said Nathan, the more effective technical assistance can be. "Our job is that of a helper."

Change Consoled

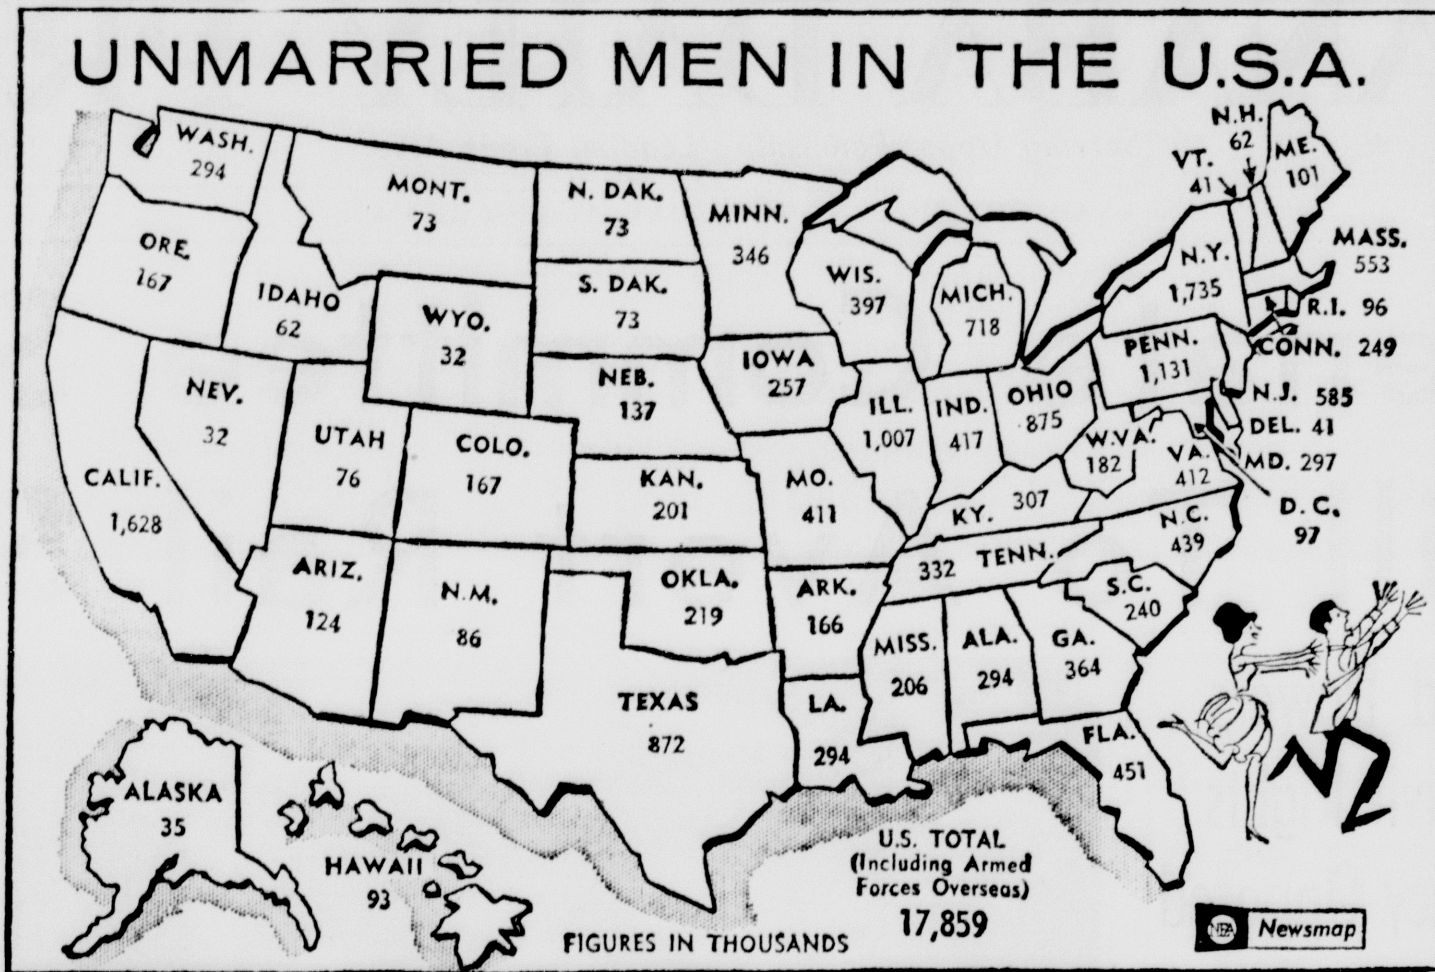

He suggested that any extension of the technical assistance program should envision an UPCAP takeover, and that there still is need for professional studies to fill gaps in basic information about U. P. resources in fisheries, forestry, recreation and other areas.

Revis said, "We are suggesting to UPCAP a 7-point program of priorities for the rest of the technical assistance period:

- "1. Expedite ARA decision in all pending projects, (Copper Harbor development, tourism investment, commercial fishery development, Tech pelletizing research, etc.)
- "2. Accelerate present loan program.
- "3. Develop comprehensive set of economic goals for U. P.
- "4. Accelerate assistance for commercial fishing rehabilitation.
- "5. Concentrate on vigorous home grown industry program.
- "6. Complete the U. P. transportation study. (Progress report due in September.)
- "7. Help UPCAP obtain a permanent secretary. (Abram Snyder has served on loan from Michigan State University.)

SNAP-JUDGMENT

Some would-be executives are able to make instantaneous decisions because their minds are not deflected by thought.

WHERE THE BOYS ARE—The number of unmarried men in the United States (single male 15 years and over and all widowed or divorced men) has been increasing steadily since 1952. Starting from a post-World War II low of 15.4 million, caused by the wartime marriage boom, the number has climbed to nearly 17.9 million today. By the end of 1964, unmarried men are expected to exceed their previous peak of 19.3 million, set in 1940, and may reach 24 million by 1975. Newsmap, based on data from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., shows the number in the 50 states. Facts about this unmarried male population:

- About 68 per cent of them live in urban areas.
- The four largest states—New York, California, Pennsylvania and Illinois—account for 31 per cent of the country's total.
- Widowers comprise 15 per cent of the unmarried male population in Arkansas, Missouri, Florida and New Hampshire, but only five per cent in Nevada, only 3 per cent in South Carolina.
- At the time of the 1960 census, about 25 per cent of the unmarried men were in their twenties. Special note to women: Nine-tenths of the men who eventually marry do so between the ages of 18 and 29. California had the largest number of such men in 1960—about 600,000.

Services Officer Leaves Sawyer; Receives Medal

K. I. SAWYER AFB—Major Raymond E. Clarkson, Base Personnel Services Officer, was presented the Air Force Commendation Medal by Major General Frederick R. Terrell, Commander of the 30th NORAD Region. The award was presented at a formal dinner held in honor of the retiring commander of the Sault Ste. Marie NORAD Sector, Col. Richard W. DaVanila.

General Terrell congratulated Major Clarkson on his accomplishments, and wished him luck in his new assignment to Thule AFB, Greenland. Major Clarkson has been Base Personnel Services Officer since April 1962. Outstanding among his many accomplishments was the construction of the base golf course.

Briefly Told

There will be no immunization clinic Friday, Aug. 23, at the Delta County Building.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to William A. Butler, 923 6th Ave. S., improper backing; Ronald R. Sundstrom, Bark River Rte. 1, and Ronald R. Hardy, Flint, both for speeding.

Application for a marriage license was made Wednesday by the following: Robert Bink of 424 S. 11th St. and Mildred B. Luft of Carney; and Lowell K. Johnson of Rte. 1, Gladstone and Judy A. LaVasser of 714 Bay St., Escanaba.

Peter J. Hallson, Wisconsin district sales representative for Nalco Chemical Co., has been promoted and transferred from Appleton to Green Bay. He will handle sales and services in Northeastern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula as a member of the four man district team based in Neenah.

S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. Inc. members reminded that this is the last rehearsal before the appearances at the Veteran's Hospital in Iron Mountain on Saturday, and the Blaney Park appearance on Sunday. All members are urged to attend. Lunch will follow the business meeting.

Powers Hires New Teachers

POWERS—Three new teachers will take their places on the faculty of Powers-Spaulding School this fall, reports Superintendent Eber Carlson.

Frank M. Barak, who received his bachelor of science degree from Northern Michigan University this past spring, will teach chemistry and mathematics.

Previous to studying at NMU, Barak studied engineering at Marquette University and completed an engineering course with the U. S. Army Corps at Ft. Belvoir.

Mrs. Frank (Marguerite Willette) Barak, who previously taught in the Norway School system, will teach French. A 1961 NMU graduate with a major in mathematics and minors in French and history.

Mr. and Mrs. Barak will make their home in Powers, residing in one of the new Dault apartments recently completed.

The third new comer to the P. S. HS faculty is Dan Francisco, well known in Upper Peninsula circles for his activities in both football and basketball, who will teach in the junior high and assist with football coaching.

A teacher in the Escanaba Public schools for the past year, Francisco was graduated in 1962 from NMU with a bachelor of science degree. He majored in physical education and had minors in biology and history. Francisco attended University of Michigan for a year before transferring to NMU.

ASSEMBLY LINE

In this day and age it's high productive efficiency — not high wages—that brings about our high standard of living.

Detroit's Wages Trailing Chicago, L.A. And New York

Wages in highly industrialized Detroit are often cited as an ideal for Michigan, although economic conditions vary widely in the state outside Metropolitan Detroit.

Defensive opposition to Detroit level wages outside often cites that Detroit wages reflect the boom auto industry of which it is the world capital, and that they are the highest of their kind in the nation.

The W. E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research has completed a study of Detroit's wages and comparison with four other cities which brings authoritative comment in this situation.

Henry C. Thole and Harold C. Taylor, authors of the study, say "Our studies have led us to the conclusion that the notion that the rate structure of Detroit's dominant high-wage industry has spread to other sectors of the Detroit economy has remarkably little solid support."

"We have analyzed 8 manufacturing industries and 7 nonmanufacturing industries. We have studied 7 classifications of unionized industries. All of this has been done for five cities and comparisons have been made between Detroit and each of the other four cities."

"In manufacturing, Detroit is high in about 80 pct. of all comparisons. There are 9 comparisons in manufacturing (in fluid milk and printing industries) in which Detroit rates are lower than those in three of the four cities and there is one industry (miscellaneous plastics) in which Detroit is below Cleveland. But Detroit is higher in all of the 41 remaining comparisons in the manufacturing sector."

"The nonmanufacturing comparisons show a very different picture. Cleveland, to be sure, is lower than Detroit here as in

Israel And Syria Nearing Clash

KUCHING, Sarawak (AP)—The U.N. Mission survey North Borneo opinion on the proposed Federation of Malaysia today postponed the start of hearings in Sarawak until Monday.

SUVA, Fiji Islands (AP)—Britain plans a conference with Fiji leaders in 1964 or early 1965 on proposals for Fiji's future. Gov. Sir Kenneth Maddocks said today in a pre-retirement speech to the legislative council.

He said recent debate by the U.N. special committee on colonialism had created uncertainty about the future of the island-territory.

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced today it has protested violation of the Bahamas territorial waters by Cuban naval forces and asked for an apology and the immediate return of 19 Cuban refugees kidnapped Aug. 13 from Anguilla Cay.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the protest was based on "incontestable evidence and a number of photographs taken by United States reconnaissance aircraft."

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel has threatened to take matters into its own hands unless the United Nations halts "Syrian aggression." But the Jewish state held its fire while awaiting Syria's response to a proposal for U.N. inspection on both sides of the Israeli-Syrian frontier.

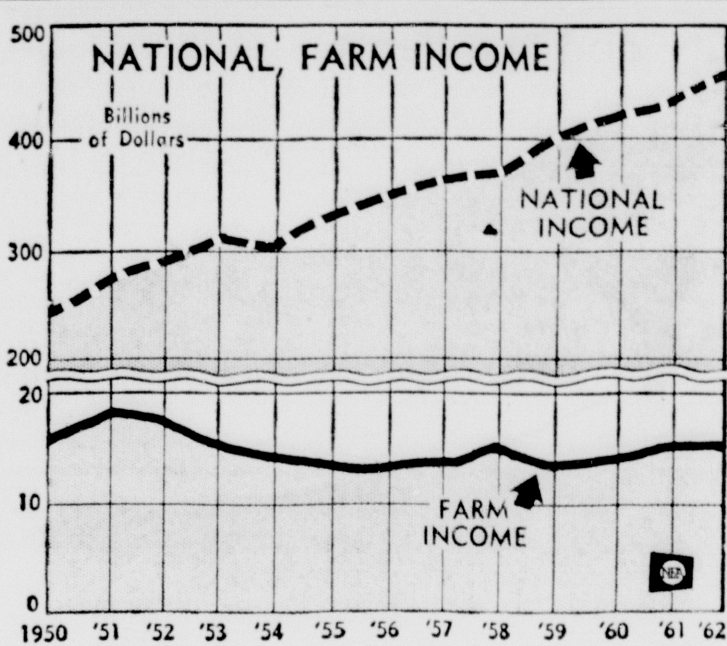

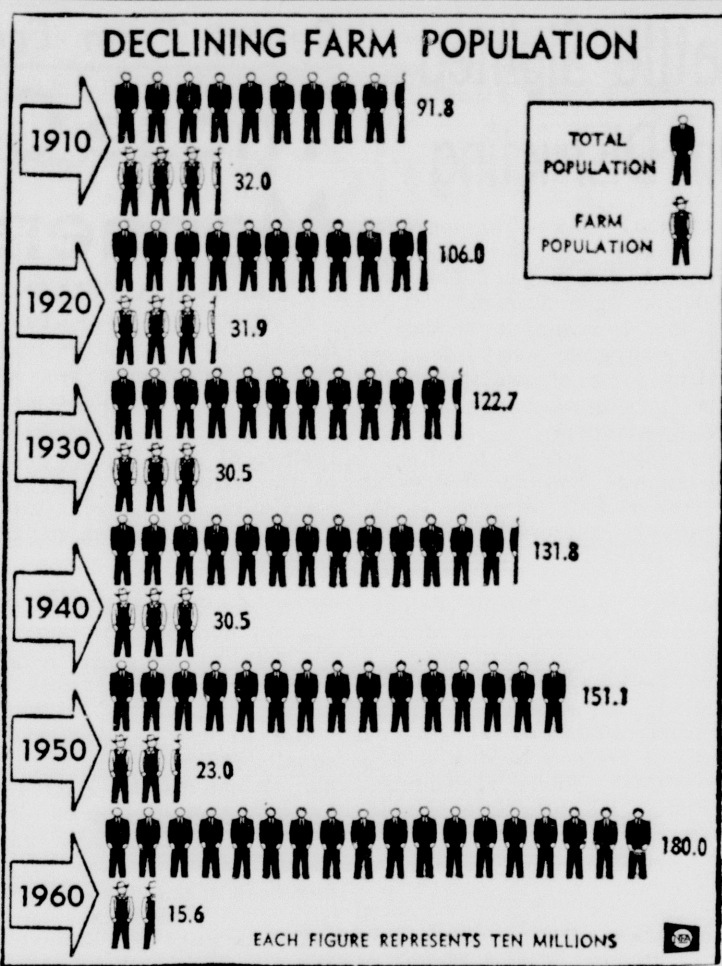

The Arab world meanwhile closed its usually divided ranks in response to a Syrian call to stand off "premeditated Israeli aggression." Syria asked other members of the Arab league to prepare for "all possible eventualities."

CAIRO (AP)—Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic opened talks on Arab unity today.

Club At Jackson Sends $1,000 To Earthquake Area

JACKSON (AP)—The Armenko Macedonian Club of Jackson has contributed $1,000 to help victims of the July 26 earthquake at Skopje, Yugoslavia.

Don Lazaroff of Jackson, who was first believed to have been in Skopje July 26, will head the drive as chairman. Fears for Lazaroff's safety were erased later when it was learned that he was in Florina, Greece when the quake devastated Skopje.

Farm population decline, 1910-1960 period, is made graphically clear, left. Between 1910 and 1940, decline was only about 1.5 million. In the 1940-1960 period, it declined by almost 15 million.

• Though the national income, 1950-1962, rose by 89 per cent as shown, above, the farmer's share of the total declined from 7 per cent in 1950 to just 3 per cent of the total in 1962. Data as compiled by Population Reference Bureau.

United Efforts Urged To Reduce School Dropouts

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney appealed directly to Michigan citizens today to join in a united effort aimed at reducing the number of high school students dropping out of school before graduation.

In a unique, five-page "open letter" prepared before he left on vacation in Europe, the governor asked parents, teachers, employers, courts and other public agencies, and the teenagers themselves to help.

He pledged the cooperation of all state agencies dealing with young people in combating what he termed an "annual waste of human potentialities."

On the basis of past figures, Romney said, more than 10,000 high school students will decide not to return to school next month and another 20,000 will drop out during the school year.

"At a time when our state and nation must exert every effort and harness every resource to meet the pressing challenges which face us at home and abroad, we cannot afford the folly of wasted energy and unused talent," said Romney.

He pointed out that a shortage of jobs for young people without high school diplomas or special training now exists and will get worse as the size of the labor market increases in coming years.

"Young people are unemployed at about three times the rate of the total work force and it is a tragic paradox that some jobs are going unfilled because youngsters do not have the proper training," said the governor.

"Today, a high school diploma is already a prerequisite for most jobs; tomorrow, even more training or education will be required."

Romney asked parents to accept responsibility for keeping their children in school beyond the legal drop-out age of 16, and to "weigh carefully the full implications of a decision to leave high school before graduation."

HAIR OF THE DOG

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mail carrier John Browning is no longer bothered by small dogs nipping at his heels. The 35-year-old postman is accompanied on his rounds by a 90-pound German shepherd dog he has trained to frighten off the belligerent pups.

INDIANS CLAIM TOPEKA

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—The Kaw Indians want a chunk of Kansas' capital city. Their tribal council is drafting a formal claim to the federal government to 23 tracts of land on the Kansas River which the Indians contend was never legally surrendered to the United States.

A substantial portion of the capital city of Topeka stands on the property.

Brothers Start Bay Trawling

MENOMINEE — The first commercial trawler fishing on Green Bay waters within the Michigan boundary will be started this week by the Ruleau Brothers, Louis and Robert of Cedar River, when they take out the 60-foot Lake Erie trawler Luella May.

The Luella May was purchased by the Ruleaus and delivered last week by Harry A. Seabrooke of Erie, Pa., and it is being fitted out in the Cedar River harbor. The all-steel V-hull trawler, built in Erie in 1947 for Lake Erie trawl fishing has been idle for a year due to the decline in Lake Erie fishing.

Fitted out and fully equipped it will be a $20,000 investment for the Ruleaus who hope to extend the fishing season with the use of the trawlers. They have fished smelt during the winter through the ice on Little Bay de Noc and Green Bay and have fished perch in the fall, but the fishing has dwindled.

Bob Ruleau said he and his brother hope to go late into the fall. "Our chief goal now is alewife (shad) and they will be trucked to Thiensville, Wis., for pet food products."

Apportionment On Track

The silly contest between the Democratic State Administrative Board and Republican Governor George Romney over the Legislative Reapportionment Commission is ended and the state government can get along with the people's business.

The squabble should never have developed and the fact that it did shows the readiness of the forces at Lansing to engage in duello. It is one more evidence of the readiness of the Democrats heading departments of state government to throw monkey wrenches into the Governor's machinery and muddy up his political record. No such happening could have been looked for when Democratic Gov. John Swainson or Democratic Gov. Soapy Williams were in office and playing footie with the Democratic Ad Board.

Michigan has now seen this process of opposition at work in several issues. Republican Romney must go to Democrat Frank Kelley for attorney general opinions on the validity of legislation and interpretation of laws and this is a ready-made setup for politicking. Kelley said that the Michigan Legislature (Republican) hadn't qualified Michigan for Aid To Dependent Children of the Unemployed under the Social Security System. Governor Romney insisted it had, citing that Congress in writing ADC-U qualification, left the formula to the states. Michigan's legislature wrote such a formula.

Michigan's Democrats wanted it even more liberal and particularly they didn't want the Republican Legislature and Governor to get credit for making this added security aid available to the people of Michigan. So they insisted Michigan hadn't qualified for the aid. But the annual Governors Conference this year (with a membership in the ratio of 5 Democrats to 4 Republicans) voted unanimously to score Washington bureaucrats in general and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in particular for exceeding their authority in handling public funds. Governor Romney carried his fight to this powerful forum and won its complete support for his position.

HEW Secretary Celebrezze approved an opinion of subordinates that Michigan's new ADC-U act didn't entitle the state's needy to $9 million and thus upset both the state and Detroit budgets.

The quarrel over the legislative reapportionment is made of similar cloth. The Democratic leaders didn't want the new constitution which provides for it and they use every opportunity to discredit it. State Treasurer Sanford Brown had mourning crepe on hatband and both sleeves on a recent visit to the U.P. and predicted dire days ahead for Michigan because of the new constitution.

He foresaw the possibility of a state without a legislature because the Democrats weren't going to "be illegal" and implement the new constitution's provision for a State Legislative Apportionment Commission. The law says it can't be operative until Jan. 1, said Brown, so he won't pay out any money before that time and won't pay retroactively for work done on apportionment this year.

(The problem is that work must be started now if reapportionment of the state's legislative districts is to be completed in time to set up next year's elections.)

Now this obstacle to orderly government has been cleared away. The Democrats will name their members and Governor Romney has said he'll ask the Legislature next month for authority to pay the Apportionment Commission for work this year. Meanwhile, he'll continue his lawsuit to determine whether the law really requires this or whether Attorney General Frank Kelley is throwing him a political curve. But in any event the process of state government can get ahead at Lansing and that's been needed for a long time.

The Doctor Says:

Tetanus Shots Recommended

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

You don't have to work around horses to be in danger of getting lockjaw or tetanus.

For those who have not had tetanus toxoid the threat exists in any deep wound into which dirt may have entered. This includes traffic accidents, third-degree burns, stepping on a nail, gunshot or stab wounds and even snake bites.

The older method of prevention was to give tetanus antitoxin. This amounted to borrowing an immunity previously developed in a horse.

This method has two disadvantages. It does not give as sure a protection as that built up by your own blood after tetanus toxoid and the horse serum may make you very sick if you are allergic to it. If you are not allergic, the injection of horse serum may make you allergic so that you will get sick from it the next time you have to take it for any reason.

Washington Comment State Briefs

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In the light of reports that the United States and Hungary are negotiating again over resumption of normal diplomatic relations, this story from behind the Iron Curtain is timely:

An important foreign dignitary visited Hungary because he had read in the Communist press that living conditions were so good a person could get anything he wanted.

When it came time to order dinner at Budapest's biggest hotel, the visitor ordered: "Elephant stew, please."

The head waiter said the elephant stew would be served shortly. A few minutes later, however, the chef beckoned the head waiter to the kitchen.

"What's the matter?" asked the waiter. "For heaven's sake, don't tell me there was no elephant to be had."

The chef shook his head. "Oh, we got the elephant from the zoo. But there just aren't any onions!"

Republican Sen. Ken Keating got a highly critical and uncompromising letter from a female New York constituent.

The parting shot came in the P. S. when she noted: "Rome had senators, too. That's why it declined."

If Congress decides to investigate federal research spending, here are some of the projects that would be uncovered:

- $80,700 to study dolphin "talk" in order to try to set up communication between these sea mammals and humans.

- $1.2 million to study the "affectional relationship" of an infant monkey to its mother.

- $26,565 for studies of silent thinking.

- $9,775 for a study of stereotactic atlas of the beagle brain.

- $20,092 for studies of disease in a giant snail.

How to decorate the long corridors in government office buildings to make them seem less forbidding is always a problem.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges has tried to solve this common problem in the corridor of his block-long building, where he has his office. He got hold of a set of color reproductions of masterpieces in the Mellon Art Gallery, had them neatly framed and hung on the pale green walls of the long, narrow, low-arched hall.

It still looks like a long, narrow, low-arched hall.

Running across an announcement that the Civil Service Board of Examiners was holding a test to fill blacksmith jobs at the Texarkana Red River Army Depot, Democratic Congressman Joe Pool of Texas concluded, "There's no poetry in the Civil Service."

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., will address a Western Michigan Republican fund-raising dinner November 23, the Kent County Republican Committee has announced. The Republicans expect 800-1,000 persons to be on hand for the $100-a-plate dinner.

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — An offer that will permit an inter-scholastic athletic program for the coming year was accepted Wednesday by the Traverse City Boosters Club offered $13,000 to underwrite any deficit in the operation of the high school's athletic program.

SPRING LAKE (AP) — A fire that ripped through her home killed Mrs. Laverne Gibbs, 47, Wednesday night as she apparently was trying to escape. Firemen found her body on a stairway landing. Ottawa County Sheriff's deputies said the fire caused $25,000 damage to the house.

DETROIT (AP) — Loretta Marie Hoffman, 13 months, was found dead in a tub of scalding water in her Detroit apartment home Wednesday, police said. Police said the child's mother, Frances, 20, had gone to another apartment to talk to her parents, leaving Loretta and her brother, Lawrence, 2, alone.

LANSING (AP) — Work has started on a $803,786 project to modernize almost 18 miles of M 95 in Marquette County near Republic, the State Highway Department reports. Completion date for the project is July 31, 1965.

Battle Sighted On Districting

LANSING (AP) — The four-man teams have been named for the Democrat-Republican fight over legislative apportionment.

All that is needed is the date to start struggling over the very partisan issue of redistricting the State Legislature under the new State Constitution.

Democrats kept a promise to Gov. George Romney Wednesday by naming four members to the temporary commission. Republicans previously named their team.

Romney and Zoltan Ferency worked out a compromise Monday to get the commission going.

The Democrats named: Henry Dongvillo, an attorney and farmer from Fountain; Richard Austin of Detroit, head of a firm of certified public accountants; A. Robert Kleiner, Grand Rapids attorney, and Ivan Brown, UAW-CIO representative from Iron Mountain.

Republicans earlier named former Gov. Wilbur Brucker of Grosse Pointe, William Hanna of Muskegon, Alfred Laporte of Standish and Ralph Huhtala of Kingsford.

Romney To Name Council For Arts

LANSING (AP) — Plans for naming a new State Council for the Arts, with 16 cultural leaders as members, were announced Wednesday by Gov. George Romney's office.

It will replace the Michigan Cultural Commission which has existed since 1960, and has 68 members.

Karl Haas, director of fine arts at Radio Station WJR in Detroit, has been appointed chairman.

The council's 16 members will be divided into two-man committees which will draw additional membership from cultural leaders around the state.

Radock To Address U-M Alumni Meet

Michael Radock, university relations director for the University of Michigan, will be the featured speaker at the annual 11th District U-M Alumni Association meeting which will be held at the Hotel Northland, Marquette Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6-7. Edward Kuich, Jr. of Menominee is district governor and Kenneth Wiele of Ironwood is district president.

Robert O. Morgan, general secretary of the U-M Alumni Association, will conduct a workshop on local club activities. Representatives of University of Michigan clubs from all over the Peninsula will be present to report on their activities and to plan activities.

Report From England:

Those Crazy Table Manners In U.S.A.

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON — (NEA) — The Silly Season now being at its height, a furious controversy has broken out over American table manners.

Specifically, the old American custom of transferring the fork to the right hand after cutting meat is coming in for a drubbing in the letters column of English newspapers.

As is well-known, the American lays his knife down after he has cut his steak. He then shifts his fork to the right hand and proceeds to lift said steak to his mouth.

Not so the Englishman. He is equally at home with the fork in his left hand or his right. In fact, he retains a firm grip on his knife and fork throughout a meal as though he suspects that his neighbors designs to pinch both utensils.

★ ★ ★ The average Englishman finds the American right-hand fork deviation a terrible time-waster, all the more surprising because the United States is the home of time-and-motion study.

The following are some of the explanations put forward by letter writers as the origin of this gastronomic heresy:

1. It originated with the American Indians who dipped their right hand into the communal food bowl, the left hand being considered unclean.

2. Pioneers in covered wagons seldom had tables; therefore they found it easier to eat buffet style, cutting up their food quickly, and then holding the plate in the left hand and the fork in the right.

3. The right-hand fork deviation originally was a primitive form of unilateral disarmament. Just as the early pioneers laid their pistols on the bar as a reassuring gesture when drinking with strangers, so they laid their knives beside their plates after cutting the meat in order to inspire confidence.

4. In the early days knives were expensive, hence they were shared at table. Thus the communal knife would be passed from one member of the family to another in order of seniority, each member in turn cutting up his food and afterwards spearing it with a fork.

5. The custom was adopted as a form of elegance, after Americans had been criticized for eating peas with their knives by such distinguished visitors as Charles Dickens.

6. Shifting the fork from hand to hand slows down the eating process, hence was adopted as an aid to digestion.

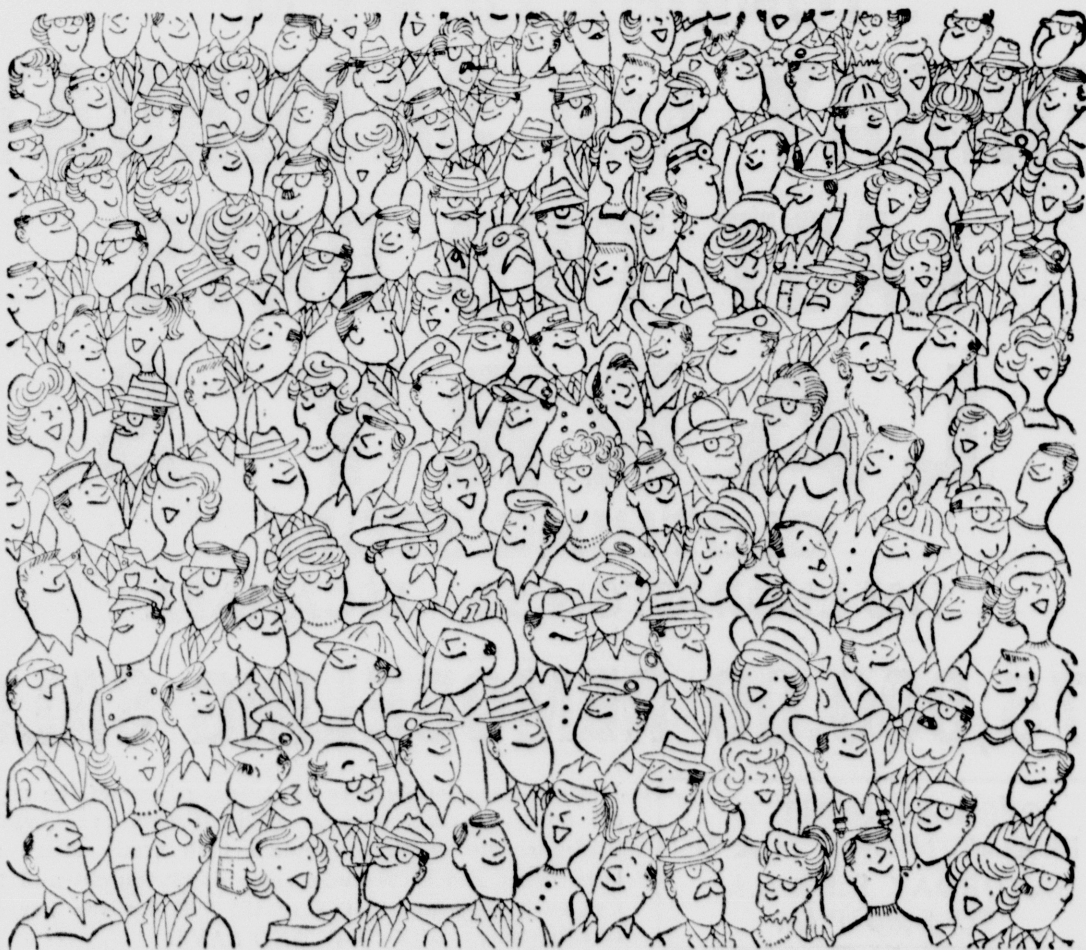

★ ★ ★ After research at the Public Record Office here, one discovers the earliest inventory of cutlery, crockery and kitchenware ever to be shipped across the Atlantic from England. The consignment was sent in 1644 by Adam Bland, a London merchant, to his family plantation in Virginia.

It consisted of spoons by the dozens and knives in many sizes and qualities, but not a single fork. The truth is that the fork was unknown to the early Americans, who cut up their meat with a knife, then ate it with the fingers of the right hand.

Or did they spear the individual mouthfuls on the point of the knife?

Who buys more Savings Bonds?

As statistical-minded as we are today, the Treasury Department can't answer that question.

The Treasury does know that U.S. Savings Bonds are owned by tens of millions of families. So it might be safe to assume that people in every walk of life belong to this "savings club."

This is a happy fact for the United States, and for the free peoples of the earth. For Savings Bond dollars are playing an important role in the making of history.

This $46 billion reserve in the government's hands is working vigorously today to help our country in the major struggle to defend freedom.

At the same time, Savings Bonds help build your personal purchasing power by paying good interest and providing a method of saving that's unconditionally safe and readily cashable. And the higher your purchasing power, the better it speaks for our system.

It all adds up to one of the best ways you can save money and at the same time help your country. Start buying Bonds next payday—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or from any bank—and see if you don't feel pretty good about it.

Michigan Fishery Decline Shown In Chicago Market

Continuing loss of business by Michigan commercial fishermen is reported by the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries in its summation of the 1962 Chicago fish market.

The fishery decline which has taken away the livelihood of hundreds of Upper Peninsula fisherman families is evident in the Chicago market statistics.

Not only did Michigan and other Great Lakes states supply less of the Chicago market last year, but Canada, which is supplying most of the fresh water fish to this market, lost part of its ground to imports of ocean fish.

Total receipts of fresh and frozen fish at Chicago dropped from 78.1 million pounds in 1961 to 74.4 million pounds in 1962. Fresh water fish were down 6 per cent from a year ago, due to increase in salt-water fish receipts, particularly filleted and processed ocean fish.

Canada supplied 93 pct. of the fresh and frozen whitefish, 93 pct. of the lake trout, 60 pct. of the yellow pike (walleyes) and 25 pct. of yellow perch.

Michigan fishermen's share of this big market was 5,438,000 pounds or 18 pct. of the receipts and 10 pct. of the domestic receipts. This represented a loss of 1,003,000 pounds or 16 per cent from the previous year. Down were Michigan shipments of sheephead, yellow pike, chubs and whitefish.

Neighboring Wisconsin shipped 3,469,000 pounds or 11 pct. of the fresh water receipts and 6 pct. of the domestic receipts, a decline of 912,000 pounds or 21 pct., mostly chubs, lake herring, yellow perch, smelt and suckers.

The Bureau of Fisheries reported: "The fisheries of the states bordering the Great Lakes have declined drastically over the years but still managed to contribute relatively good quantities of chubs, lake herring, yellow perch, lake smelt, lake trout, whitefish and yellow pike to the Chicago market in 1962."

"From Michigan, the Chicago market receives chubs, lake herring, smelt, whitefish and yellow perch. Wisconsin ships significant amounts of chubs, buffalohead, carp and sheephead, Indiana contributes very small amounts of fresh water fish."

Receipts of Michigan fish in 1962 totaled 5.4 million pounds of which 4.9 million pounds were delivered by truck and 460,300 pounds by express. The 1961 receipts were 6.4 million pounds, a million more.

Biggest Michigan production was in chubs, 2.1 million pounds. Next greatest was lake herring, 893,900 pounds. Other large volumes were: perch fillets 303,600 pounds, smelt 386,900 pounds, whitefish 145,600 pounds, sheephead 181,900 pounds, frozen yellow perch, 288,300 pounds.

Yellow pike fillets totaled only 16,500 pounds and 42,100 pounds in the round and 2,500 pounds of Michigan lake trout and only 12-100 pounds of Michigan whitefish.

Northern's Fine Practical Arts Building Nearly Completed

Northern Michigan University's Fine and Practical Arts Building, above, is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy when the fall semester opens at Northern in mid-September. Five departments will move from cramped quarters in Kaye Hall to the new $2,650,000 structure, which will house the departments of music, art, dramatic arts, home economics and industrial arts. The building's general contractor is Gundlach Construction Co. of Houghton, which began construction last September. The auditorium section is shown at left and the classrooms portion at right. This view is from the fieldhouse area facing south.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Nelson and family are moving to Palmer where he is employed.

Mrs. Audie McDougall has returned home from Tahquamenon General Hospital, Newberry.

Mrs. Mona Bachelor of Detroit is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Skarritt.

Ted Hudson of St. Louis, Mo., visited relatives and friends here. He was accompanied by his son, Roy, and Noel Losey.

Mrs. Robert Hickman and daughter of St. Louis, Mo., returned home after a visit at the home of Mrs. Hickman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ackley Sr.

A/le and Mrs. Archie Musselman and family returned to Roswell, N. M., after a visit at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Musselman.

The Germfask Elementary School will open Sept. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hall and David, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith and Mr. and Mrs. C. Hubert Lat-sch and sons attended the Manistique Square Dancers picnic Sunday at Indian Lake State Park.

Parish Picnic

St. Theresa's parish picnic and horse pulling contest will be held Sunday Aug. 25. A parade will begin at 11 a. m. and a barbecue will be held at noon.

Birth

Word was received by Mrs. Emmett Crawn of the birth of a son to her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sumo of Vancouver, Wash., Aug. 12. The infant weighed 8 pounds and 7 ounces. Mrs. Clarence Calhoun of Manistique is the paternal grandmother. Mrs. Sump is the former Helen Swisher.

Grange Delegates

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Crawn were elected delegates to the state Grange meeting in October at Sault Ste. Marie, and Mr. and Mrs. William Brain were named alternates, at a meeting of Germfask Grange 1886. A donation of $10 to the Grange scholarship fund was approved.

Club Meets

A meeting of the Happy Hour Homemakers was held at the home of Mrs. Howard Snyder. Copper tooling was the project. The next meeting will be held Sept. 5.

Nation's Debt Is Rated Bad Sign

One trillion, 20 billion dollars! That's the true size of today's national debt if we are honest in facing up to all of our commitments, says Glenn Martz, farm writer and long-time Washington newsman, when current debts are added to committed projects and give-away programs, the trillion figure is reached for the first time in history.

Martz recently visited in Lansing and passed along his observations on the national scene. They included the feeling that are not good for the future of America.

"There is no greater story to be told than the rise of our nation, now only 185 years old and already one of the greatest civilizations since the dawn of time," Martz said. He looks back to the breaking up of the prairie sod, the pioneers carving homes out of the wilderness—the huge cities, the great roads and bridges that all followed in less than two centuries.

"We have done all of this because for the first time the energies of men were unleashed, allowing them the privilege of reaching for the stars with the true hope of attaining them. This new nation put no curb on ambitions, each individual could soar as high as he pleased."

How then could this rich, lusty nation plow headlong into a trillion dollar debt?

According to Martz, "We got there because of the multiple 'welfare' and 'give-away' programs sponsored by people trying to erase what they call 'evils' of the old economic system that

Two Bar Owners Held For Making Election Donation

ROSEVILLE (AP) — Two owners of a Roseville bar were bound over to Macomb County Circuit Court Wednesday on charges of violating the state election law.

Peter Hodges and Eddie Pawlaga are charged with making a $1,000 contribution to the State Democratic Central Committee with a check drawn on their corporation. State law forbids corporations from making political contributions.

Spacegirl Invited

MEXICO CITY (AP)—U.S. astronaut Alan Shepard and Valentina Tereshkova, Soviet woman astronaut, have been invited to attend the 56th World Conference of the International Aeronautical Federation at Mexico City Oct. 12-20.

Conference organizers said Tuesday they also had invited Lt. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh of the United States, Spain's aerial acrobat Jose Luis Aresti and France's Jacqueline Auriol.

amassed the wealth in the first place. They are trying to do this through costly government programs that pay farmers not to grow crops, or place able-bodied persons on relief programs and pensions.

"These tend to undermine the old spirit of free enterprise by which two-fisted men and women built this country to what it is in 185 years. Whenever we make it possible for each person to make all the economic mistakes they want—then give up their jobs and live off the country, we have killed the spark that has made this country great."

Five Are Linked To Store Holdup

BALTIMORE (AP) — Indictment of three men and two teen-aged girls on charges of holding up a Baltimore drug store is expected before the end of this week, Charles Moylan, assistant state's attorney, says.

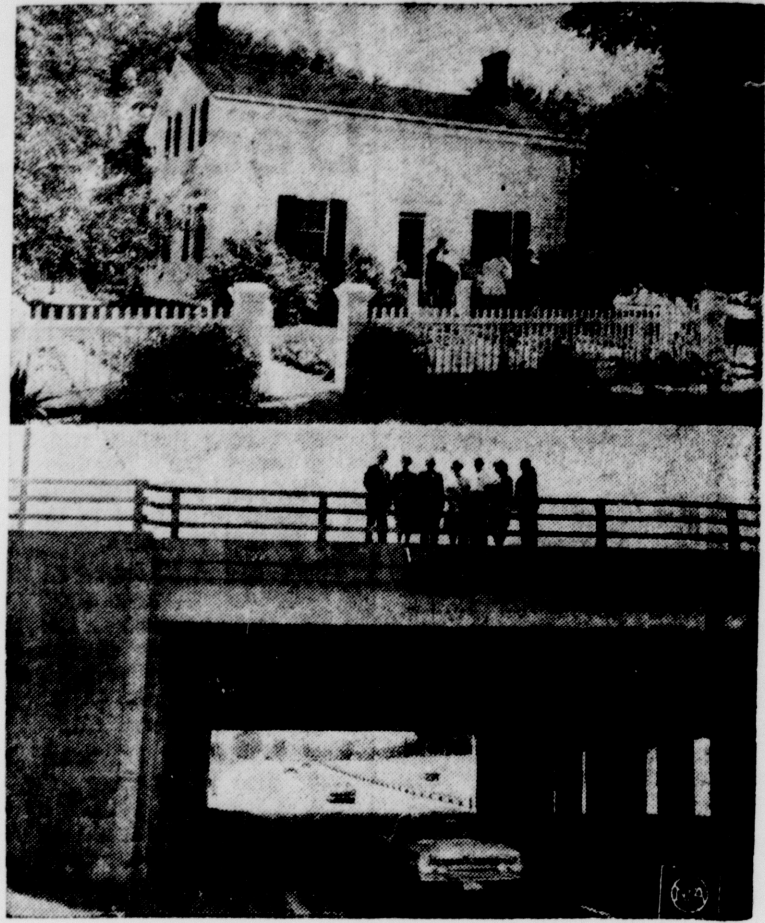

Police said when they were arrested Aug. 2 that the three men were fugitives from a bar holdup in Michigan.

They were arrested in a rented automobile minutes after a drug store owner was held up at gunpoint and robbed of $2,100.

The were identified as Kenneth L. Wesley, New York, Patrick G. Gregory, 28, East Jordan, Mich., Terence J. Brandt, 28, Detroit, Shirley Jean Blakley, 17, and Virginia P. Patrick, 17. Both girls were from Adrian, Mich.

They have been held in jail for lack of bond which was fixed at $25,000 each for the men and $10,000 for the girls.

Moylan said evidence was presented to the grand jury Aug. 9. He said he expected they would be tried late in September.

The farmhouse (top photo) in which Henry Ford lived in a century ago, on July 30, 1863, stands serenely in Greenfield Village exactly as it looked at the time of its construction. That is not the same as its location. The spot where it originally stood, less than two miles away, vibrates now to the hum of automobile traffic. Perhaps the best possible monument to the inventor of the Model T and originator of the assembly line, a modern highway overpass (lower photo) covers the original farmhouse site. The Henry Ford Centennial marker committee recently viewed the area from the overpass prior to erecting a marker, donated by Dearborn school children, close to the intersection.

The Escanaba Daily Press has expanded its circulation to the Newberry area. This means 200 more subscribers with more to come. This is valuable additional coverage to Press advertisers.

Closing Of Parks Avoids Integration

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina's 26 public parks will be closed indefinitely Sept. 8 to avoid racial integration.

A federal court order in July said the parks should be integrated within 60 days.

Twenty of the parks are for whites and six for Negroes. State law permits only segregated park facilities.

Federal Govt. Attacks Highway Sign Confusion

WASHINGTON — The federal government is pushing a drive to end confusion caused by conflicting traffic signs.

National uniformity of signs, signals and markings will help reduce the country's traffic death and injury rate according to Federal Highway Administrator Rex M. Whitton.

President Kennedy, Secretary of Commerce Hodges and the Bureau of Public Roads get hundreds of letters each month from citizens who want something done to improve highway safety. Many of the letters insist that the federal government should take direct action.

However, Whitton says: "We do not believe that direct federal action for highway safety is desirable or necessary. We do not believe that the federal government needs to 'take over'."

He points out that obscure, misleading or illegible signs cause many accidents. Others result from a lack of signs where they ought to be "or a sign that means one thing in one jurisdiction but something else only 50 or 100 miles away."

Some States Act
The highway chief says that confusing signs may cause a driver to lose his way and hurrying to make up time he may get into an accident. Confusing signs can make motorists so irritated that they get careless on the road.

"Make no mistake," he said, "uniformity of traffic control devices is important to highway safety."

Whitton contends that three "obviously urgent areas" are:

Studies of traffic sign requirements, working committees co-operating at city, county and state levels and action by highway officials to request modernized legislation where needed.

A Bureau of Public Roads questionnaire showed that 35 states had reported area or state meetings on the subject, 31 had distributed a national manual on uniform traffic control devices to city and county officials, and 44 had started replacing nonuniform devices on a continuing basis.

Another 35 had started studies, 40 were revising state sign manuals, 47 had adopted the national manual as a standard and 28 states were considering revising state laws.

"The entire subject of the varying legislative needs of the states certainly should be studied by each state highway department," Whitton said.

A study of Iowa's highways revealed that in rural sections three out of five signs did not meet acceptable standards. There were about 12 signs per mile on the 8,800 miles covered.

The inadequate signs were too small, placed wrongly or carried nonstandard messages.

Iowa found that it would cost $3,400,000 to complete a modernized program of highway signs and signals over and above regular annual maintenance costs for traffic control devices.

This shows, the federal official said, "the tremendous size of the problem in almost every state."

Another study of 1,200 cities showed there was a greater lack of uniformity in cities and towns than on rural highways.

Newberry

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Olin and family returned Monday to Grand Ledge, Mich., after visiting Mrs. Celia Carroll.

Raymond Luoma of Lansing is here visiting his mother, Mrs. Edith Luoma and other relatives. Raymond is teaching down state, and going to school at M. S. U. working toward his Doctorate degree in Mathematics. He will be here until the latter part of August.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McLean former residents, and Mrs. Lelia Parish of Pasadena, Calif., who have been visiting the latter's sister and brother-in-law the Glyn Thomas here and the Fred Schneiders of Engadine, left Tuesday for Pasadena, where the McLeans expect to locate permanently. Their son Leonard is presently living there.

Alex Lawrence of Birmingham is spending several days visiting friends here.

Mrs. Mamie Tonks and Mrs. Florence Keune arrived Sunday from Bay City, the former to visit Mrs. Ellen Dennis, the latter will be with her son Fred Keune and family. They expect to be here for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hetrick and children went to Detroit Monday where they will see some Tiger ball games, visit relatives and return some time tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Erickson and children of Charlevoix, left Tuesday for New London, Conn., where they will live in the future. They visited the V. A. Kaucamakis and Mrs. U. S. Minnie Mattson here.

Whitton said New York state had adopted a new uniform traffic control manual. Florida has formed a state uniform traffic control committee.

New Hampshire has furnished extracts of the new national manual without cost to all cities and towns, as well as furnishing signs to communities at cost if they request them. This latter action has also been taken by Wisconsin.

Missouri plans to have replaced all nonuniform signs by 1966.

Indiana requires local governments to remove all traffic signals that do not conform. Where localities fail to act, the state can remove the devices and charge the city for the removal.

Career Choice Is Stressed At Tech By Space Leader

HOUGHTON—In today's world scientists and engineers are important as never before, said NASA's Dr. Robert R. Gilruth here today but one of their most important decisions comes before they ever start their careers.

Dr. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Texas, delivered the commencement address at Michigan Tech's summer commencement. The College conferred 92 Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees on 90 degree candidates.

An honorary Doctor of Engineering degree was conferred on Dr. Gilruth by Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, president of the College.

Dr. Gilruth emphasized the importance of job selection by a young engineer or scientist, and individual characteristics that lead to a successful professional life.

"Salary is not the most important factor," he said. "The job where you can make the greatest personal contribution is usually the right job." Most engineers would agree, he added, that money has a strange tendency to keep pace with professional growth and the contribution of the individual.

Dr. Gilruth further explained that a wrong choice can be a serious mistake. "The development of technology in all fields of engineering continues at an accelerated pace," he said. "It is extremely difficult for any engineer or scientist to go back and catch up after a period of from three to five years."

Molotov Now Forgotten Man

MOSCOW (AP) — A little man with aluminum gray eyes and a black mustache got out of a big car at Berlin's Reich Chancellery in 1940 and was whisked into an important conference with Adolf Hitler. This honored guest was Vyacheslav Molotov, Soviet foreign minister and right-hand man of Stalin.

Where is he today?
On extremely rare occasions, a little man with aluminum gray eyes and a gray-white mustache strolls with his wife in a park, not noticed, not wanting to be noticed.

That happens to those who lose out in the Soviet Union.

Molotov, 72, lost out in one of the most dramatic struggles of Soviet history. In 1957, four years after Stalin died, he made the mistake of trying to drive out of power a rising man named Nikita Khrushchev.

Traded Cold Stares

Molotov, who for over a quarter of a century was one of the big figures in shaping the government and foreign policy of the Soviet Union was named Soviet ambassador to Mongolia. Later he was transferred to Vienna as representative to an international committee dealing with peaceful uses of atomic energy.

It was a letdown for a man who had traded cold stares and colder words with the great of the world — Eisenhower, Truman, Churchill, Ernest Bevin, Dulles, Gen. Marshall.

In 1961, when Khrushchev met President Kennedy in Vienna, there was a great lineup of Russians as the train came in from Moscow. At the head of the line were Austrian officials, the Soviet ambassador, and embassy personnel. Far down the line, among the junior clerks, stood the strangely withered little man whose cold "nyet" played a major role in driving Western nations into a defensive alliance against communism.

Denounced Again

Khrushchev shook hands with Molotov, exchanged a few quiet words on a suddenly hushed station platform, and went on.

Four months later, Khrushchev felt that the old Stalin group needed another going over in a revived attack on the "cult of personality." In the congress of the Soviet party, Molotov and his associates were denounced again. Scores of murders were attributed to them.

In November, a month after the congress closed, he returned to Moscow by train. Only the secret police, his daughter and Western newsmen met him. His daughter led him and Mrs. Molotov to a car.

A year ago Western reporters discovered he was in a hospital with grippe. Not a word of it was in the Soviet press.

There has been no report that Molotov was pensioned, but doubtless he has been. He and his wife evidently live with their daughter and her husband in an apartment not far from the foreign office.

He can't travel abroad, nor apparently even in the Soviet Union. It is not known publicly what he does.

Ann Landers

Gruesome Dance

Dear Ann Landers: Last Saturday night I had a date with Chuck. I've known him for a long time but it was only hello and good-bye. When he asked me to this dance I was quite surprised.

I'm not the greatest dancer in the world, but then neither is Chuck. When the band came out with the Bosa Nova I was stumped because I'm not up on that stuff. I stumbled a little and Chuck said, "Holy Cow, will you please try to follow me?" I tried but couldn't get the hang of it. It was pretty gruesome.

Then we passed a mirror and I saw Chuck signaling a guy in the stag line to take me off his hands. Chuck held up two fingers. In a few minutes Petey came over and cut in.

The next day I found out from Petey's sister that Chuck had paid Petey two bucks to "save his life." I'm so mad I can't see straight. What should I do?—WENDY

Dear Wendy: Send Chuck one dollar in an envelope and tell him you don't think it's fair that he should stand the total cost of the cut-in—because you were just as happy to see Petey as he was.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife's sister telephoned us four months ago in the middle of the night—as usual. She was hysterical. Her husband had come home roaring drunk and was breaking up the furniture and smashing dishes. So my wife begged me to drive over and get her sister and the four children.

They've been with us ever since, in our five-room bungalow. We have five children of our own so you can imagine what the place looks like. There are kids on the floor in sleeping bags, on the back porch in a hammock, and on Army cots in the living room. The grocery bill is out of this world and the milk bill is up there with it.

The father of these kids has not sent over one dime to help out and I am sick of it. Last night I learned my sister-in-law has been having "social dates" with her husband. When I asked her about it she said they were considering going back together. I want her out of our house immediately. My wife says it would not be charitable. What do you think?—BOTH CHEEKS

Dear Cheeks: I think you deserve to be canonized. Your brother-in-law is obligated by law to support his family and he should be made to do it. And your family should not have to live like sardines because you've got kooky relatives.

Dear Ann Landers: You are very good at solving other people's problems. How about taking a crack at this one?—MATH

$$x^2 + 2 - (4x - 2\frac{1}{2}) = 0$$

$$x = ?$$

Dear Math: My mathematics consultant, Michael F., tells me your problem is pretty dull and almost too easy to solve. Here is the answer:

$$x^2 + 2 - (4x - 2\frac{1}{2}) = 0$$

$$x^2 - 4x + 7 = 0$$

$$(x - 7)(x - 1) = 0$$

$$x = 7, 1$$

Mr. F. presented what he described as a far more interesting problem and claims it has no solution. It is known as Fermat's Last Theorem. Mathematicians have been breaking their heads over this one for over 300 years. All you geniuses who figured out how long it would take me to iron the bedsheet laid end to end from Ithaca, N. Y. to Chicago, should have a ball with this. Be my guest:

Find whole numbers x, y, and z so that for some whole number n (greater than 2)

$$x^n + y^n = z^n$$

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jimmy Byrnes, 84, Still Jaunty Man

By AL LANIER

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—At 84, Jimmy Byrnes is still the jaunty, keen-eyed man seen in the newsreels with world leaders in the fateful years of the 1940s.

With upright figure and hat rocked at a rakish angle, he retains the jovial manner that won him friends in high places around the world. But James F. Byrnes has serious concerns about the post-war world he helped fashion. "The United Nations must be reformed if it is to exist," says the man who signed the United Nations Charter for the United States.

"Every important agreement we made with the Soviets was violated by them when they decided it was in their interest," warns Byrnes, who negotiated with them as U.S. secretary of state.

During World War II, Byrnes was director of war mobilization and was dubbed "the assistant president."

He served from 1945 to 1947 as secretary of state under President Harry S. Truman. After more than 30 years of high-ranking federal service, beginning as U.S. senator, Byrnes came home to South Carolina and served as governor from 1950 to 1954.

Today, the Byrnes live in a fashionable but unpretentious Columbia home. He visits his downtown law office regularly. But most of his time—and money—are devoted to the James F. Byrnes Foundation, which provides college scholarships to orphans.

"I don't accept employment of any kind," Byrnes said in a recent interview. "I'll make a speech on a public question I'm interested in, when I feel like it."

To meet the financial demands of the college awards, Byrnes has turned over to the foundation "every dollar" he ever made from his books, articles and speeches. The retirement money he gets from the federal government also is funneled into it, and recently his beach house at the Isle of Palms near Charleston was sold for $29,000 to keep the awards program operating.

"We've used about all I feel I can spare from my savings," said Byrnes. "But whatever we can get along without, I'll give."

The foundation was started in 1948 with $50,000 Byrnes received from the New York Herald Tribune for the newspaper rights to his book "Speaking Frankly." About $40,000 in royalties from the book also went into the program which provides $500 a year for four years for each recipient. The money is an outright grant, not a loan to be paid back.

"Since 1948, the grants have gone to 265 young people and all but five have turned out to be college material," Byrnes said proudly.

"You know, I think orphans have an advantage over the rich boy who has no incentive," he added. "There is such a thing as an aristocracy of character, brains and energy."

Most of the grants have been made to white orphans, but several Negroes have received them, including two who have become doctors and one now in the ministry.

Keenly interested in foreign affairs, Byrnes is critical of the Kennedy administration's handling of the Cuban situation.

He also opposes many aspects of the administration's racial policies.

About a year ago, Byrnes gave up golf and concentrates on fishing. Firmly convinced that fish bite best about daybreak, it is not unusual for Byrnes, his wife and their Negro chauffeur, Willie Byrd, to leave home at 5 a.m. and head for a pond.

Byrnes married his wife, Maude, 57 years ago on his birthday, May 2. Willie Byrd and Miss Cassie Connor, his secretary, joined the Byrnes' menage many years ago and are indispensable.

Although once considered the likely Democratic successor at the White House, Byrnes hasn't voted for the Democratic national ticket in the past three elections. He voted for Republican presidential candidates Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon in 1952 and 1960, and for Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., on an independent electors ballot in 1956.

The Democrats won't get the Byrnes vote in 1964, either. The Republicans probably will, but may not if Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is the nominee.

"If Mr. Rockefeller is nominated, I may just decide it's better to go out and commune with the bass on election day," declared Byrnes.

Hoard $18,000 And Steals Shirt

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph Tarnowski, who hoarded more than $18,000 in 25 years of odd jobs, was sentenced to 90 days in Wayne County Jail Wednesday for stealing a shirt and a pair of house slippers from a Salvation Army store.

Tarnowski's hoard was found concealed in his clothing after his arrest. He said he was saving the money to visit his 86-year-old mother in Poland.

Recorder's Judge John P. Scallen asked the court psychiatrist to petition Probate Court for Tarnowski's commitment. The psychiatrist's report said that Tarnowski, 51, showed indications of paranoia and hallucinations.

Judge Scallen said if Tarnowski was committed, his money could be placed in the care of a guardian and be doled out to him. In that way, Tarnowski would be in no danger of becoming a public charge, he said.

State's Deficit To Be Reduced

LANSING (AP) — Michigan cut its general fund deficit from $85.6 million to $23 million in fiscal 1962-63 — and prospects appear good for another slash to the $5 million mark by the end of the current fiscal year.

This was the substance of a report by Controller Glenn Allen Jr. today on the state's financial condition as of June 30.

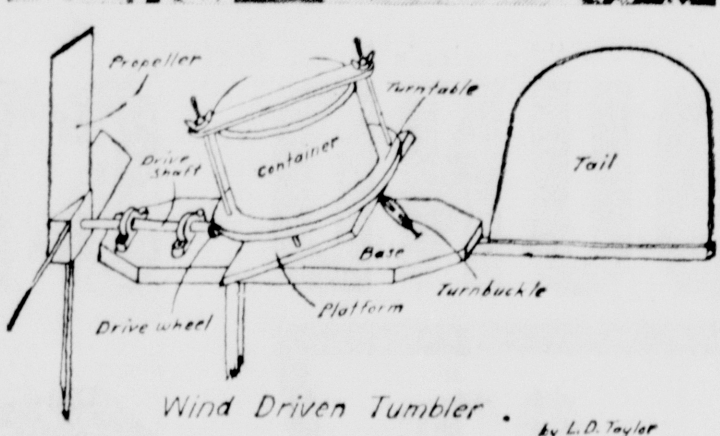

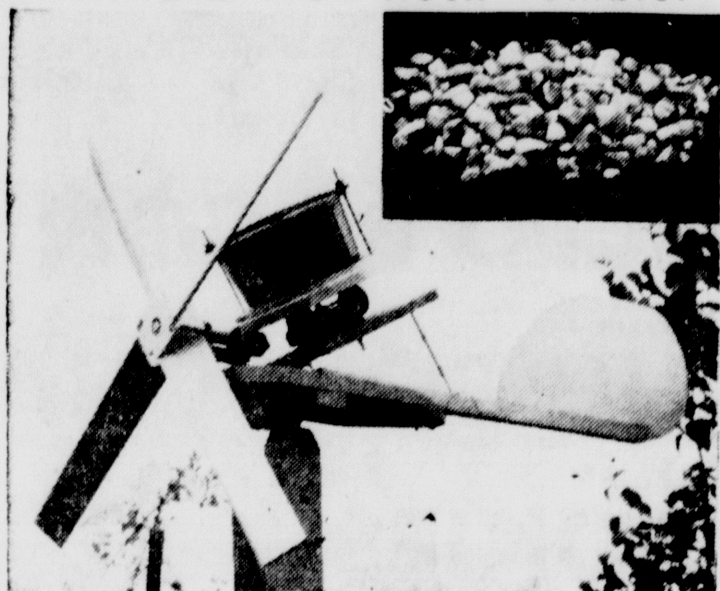

He said the one-year operating surplus of $62.6 million established a record for cutting into the deficit that has existed since the late 1950s.

Most of the improvement was the result of a record year in automobile sales and increased revenues from other sources, including the nuisance taxes authorized by the legislature last year.

"If the state's economy does no more than hold its own during the next fiscal year," Allen said, "the deficit could very well be reduced to about $5 million by the end."

Wind-Driven Rock Tumbler

Wind Driven Tumbler. By L.D. Taylor

Here's just the thing for hobbyists who want to bring out the best in rocks they've collected. It's called the wind-driven rock tumbler, an inexpensive device which can be constructed with odds and ends from the home workshop. The homemade model shown above cost only 67 cents. This tumbler is also simple to use; it is loaded with stones and grinding powders and left to do its job with operating costs being as free as the breeze. It can be mounted on roof tops, fence posts, or clothes poles. Detailed plans for building and using this tumbler may be obtained by sending a postcard or letter with your name and address to: Wind-Driven Tumbler, Michigan Conservation Magazine, Lansing, Michigan, 48926.

Potato Show To Star Queens, Cooks

Marquette Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Wyndal Hudson announces appointment of chairmen for the Upper Peninsula Potato Show, in Marquette, Nov. 6-7.

The show is sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce, the U. P. Potato Growers Association, and the Michigan State University's Extension Service.

"A big show is expected this year," says Hudson, "due to the statewide attention that was focused on the area when the U. P. Russet Burbank potato development won the state award in the 1963 Michigan Week contest."

The show will include both a queen contest and a cooking contest. Seven candidates will vie for the queen title and sixteen will compete for the best cook award.

LINNEA LINDQUIST, TOWNSHIP CLERK

ELECTOR UNABLE TO MAKE PERSONAL APPLICATION, PROCEDURE

SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION, APPLICATION, TIME

SEC. 506. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the (30) days next preceding any election or primary election, (unless such 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day), provided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he had not resided (30) days next preceding any election or primary election.

School Fund Vote Sought In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit voters may be faced with the second school millage election of the year in November. They would be asked to renew a 7.5-mill tax for the next 10 years.

The millage proposal, made by Willis Hall, president of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, would mean school property taxes probably would not exceed 7.5 mills during the next decade. Hall said the rest of the necessary funds would have to come from other sources, perhaps a one per cent county income tax.

Seney

School Opening

Seney School will open Tuesday, Sept. 3, with Mrs. Ruth England, principal and teacher of upper grades and Mrs. Mae Hutt, teacher of primary grades. Warren Anderson will be custodian and Glen Short, bus driver to Newberry High School. The teachers will attend a meeting at Manistique in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Crosby Washburn of Ann Arbor are vacationing at their cabin on Driggs Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Woolford and family of Pigeon visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDowell.

Clyde Tobin Jr. of Detroit spent the weekend with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Shesterkin of Detroit visited her brother-in-law and sister, the Clyde Tobins.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Furst of Benton Harbor visited his brother, Bert Furst.

W. A. Parrot and party of Cass City are vacationing at their cabin on the Walsh grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Scott of Pontiac were guests at the Bowersox home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Marletti of Detroit are spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDowell.

Julius Rappert, father of Mrs. Clayton St. Martin, is a patient at Munising Hospital, suffering from pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ketola and family have returned to Milan after a week's visit with relatives.

The strong-willed, fiery First Lady of Viet Nam is the center of controversy which involves the country's restless Buddhists, the ruling Catholic regime and the U. S. government.

Industrial Realty Journal Praises Michigan Growth

"Michigan is experiencing industrial and economic progress greater than the national average and higher than most states," reports the Industrial Property Guide August edition, published under the auspices of the Society of Industrial Realtors at Cleveland.

The monthly magazine goes to specialists in plant location and other phases of the industrial real estate field.

"This progress is taking place in an atmosphere of financial responsibility in state government and with a desire for improvement on the part of the people of Michigan," says Industrial Property Guide. "This interest is expressed by citizen participation in community and state programs designed for overall progress."

"Industry is demonstrating its confidence in Michigan by spending many millions of dollars on plant improvements and expansions. The automotive industry alone is investing more than $500 million in plants and equipment. The industrial growth is reflected throughout the business community and in the services and professions.

"Community development programs are being effected to make

Michigan's local communities attractive and advantageous for industry. Civic appreciation of companies which form the local industrial base is being expressed. Michigan people are demonstrating publicly that industry is "wanted and appreciated."

"It is significant that the number of industrial expansions in Michigan during the first half of 1963 is the highest in several years. This year there has been an increase in the number of Michigan firms which are establishing branch plants within the state, but outside their local communities. This economic expansion brings benefits to Michigan's communities, related industries and to all the state.

Local schools are being built to meet the growing needs of children in the primary and secondary grades.

"Cities and suburban townships are growing. Utilities, private and public, are growing to meet increasing needs. New churches are being built. New park and recreation areas are being provided.

"Important to Michigan's economic growth is the diversity of industries which are showing the greatest progress. This group includes rubber products, primary metals, stone, clay and glass products, lumber and wood products, printing, publishing and allied industries, paper and allied products, machinery, food products and fabricated metal products. Such diversification stabilizes Michigan's supplier industries. Michigan's progress in industry and all other phases of economic life serve as proof that Michigan is a good place for industry."

Recipes From Colorado Eating Places

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

A new cook book has come out of the West.

Two enterprising young women have been riding around Colorado (where they live), eating at what they consider the state's finest restaurants and cadging recipes from chefs.

The results are in "Colorado a la Carte," published by Alan Callow (Sage Books) in Denver, and the authors are Beverly Anderson Nemiro and Donna Miller Hamilton. To help travelers as well as cooks, the restaurants' locations, price ranges, house specialties and history are noted.

The chefs' recipes include meat, poultry and fish dishes; breads and pancakes; sandwiches and sauces; salads and salad dressings; soups and vegetables; pies and other desserts. The restaurant cuisines offer interesting variety, and this is of course reflected in the recipes.

It's too bad that since they home-tested these rules, trying them on their families, the Mesdames Nemiro and Hamilton didn't always include utensil measurements where these would be helpful. We wish, too, that they had not defined marrons as water chestnuts! But we will always be grateful to them for ferreting out and including a great recipe for trout. Tried in our own kitchen, its explicit directions worked perfectly.

HIGH COUNTRY TROUT (From Hotel Splendide, Empire, Colo.)

6 trout, fresh or frozen, about 1 1/2 pound each
18 pats butter
Salt
Pepper
6 lemon wedges

Place each trout on a bed of 3 pats butter, on aluminum steak platter. Put in very hot (450 degrees) oven, on bottom shelf, and cook until butter begins to turn brown, about 12 to 15 minutes. Salt and pepper trout lightly on both sides, turning over with spatula, leaving cooked side up. Return to oven and cook until trout is done, approximately 10 minutes. Serve with a wedge of lemon. The Hotel serves sliced cucumbers, marinated in a tart French dressing, and crisp hashed brown potatoes, as accompaniments. Makes 6 servings.

Like homemade blueberry pancakes? Measure the dry ingredients for the pancakes ahead of time and put in a tightly covered jar. Then you can mix up the pancakes at breakfast time.

June Corey Is Selected For 'Home Design Tour'

EAST LANSING — Nearly 80 4-H Club members from throughout Michigan, including June Corey of Stephenson, will head for Detroit Aug. 28 for a "Home Design Tour." It is part of the annual State 4-H Show Aug. 26-30 at Michigan State University and is the first such 4-H tour to Detroit.

June, who is 16, is one of seven of the tour participants who have been named district winners for home design projects.

One of these girls will be named tops in the state for home design during the state show.

The tour includes a visit to Detroit-Edison Co. where the 4-Hers will study the effect of light on color and have a chance to see how light "behaves" in different home situations. They will also visit the Detroit Institute of Arts where the tour emphasis will be on period furniture. Another stop is the Top of the Flame restaurant. There, they will see Far Eastern decor as well as view Detroit's rapidly developing urban renewal area.

The Sears Roebuck Foundation is sponsoring the trip, a new feature for the State 4-H event.

Births

CAVILL—Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Cavill, 3333 S. 99th, West Allis, Wis., are the parents of a son, Ronald William Jr., born at St. Francis Hospital Aug. 21 at 12:35 p.m. The infant, second child in the family, weighed 7 pounds and 9 ounces. Mrs. Cavill is the former Connie Fisher, and both she and her husband are former residents of Escanaba.

FRIZZELL — A son, Kevin Keith, weighing 7 pounds and 5 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Frizzell, 1415 N. 19th St., Aug. 21 at 9:35 p.m. at St. Francis Hospital. The baby is their third child. The mother is the former Joyce Gehringer.

Escanaba Country Club 'Fun Day' Aug. 28 Event

The revival of Fun Day will provide a gala party for women of the Escanaba Country Club this coming Wednesday, Aug. 28.

A "treasure hunt" which will begin promptly at 3 p. m. and in which golf clubs will be used, has been planned as the feature of the festivities. The first to arrive will be the first to begin the hunt. Special clues will aid the searchers for the treasure. Costumes, of course, will be the order of the day, and each one is to wear attire descriptive of her favorite book title.

District W.S.C.S. Seminar Schedule Is Announced

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church in Marquette District will conduct the annual Seminars at the following places. Even, Sept. 9: Bark River, Sept. 11: Iron River, Sept. 10; Manistique, Sept. 12. Coffee hour and registrations will be at 9 a.m. The sessions will convene at 9:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. Luncheon reservations should be made with the local society president of the host church several days in advance.

The district officers will present the outline of the society studies for 1963-1964 and will conduct clinics for all secretaries of lines of work.

Program material will be available at all seminars.

Mrs. Dan Matthews of Negaunee will be chairman of the seminars. Mrs. Earl LaFreniere of Norway is president of Marquette District.

Mental Illness Workshop For U.P. Nurses Is Slated

LANSING—All Upper Peninsula nurses have been invited to attend a two-day workshop on mental illness sponsored jointly by the Michigan Department of Health and the Michigan Department of Mental Health at the Newberry State Hospital Sept. 11-12.

Claire L. Corriveau, nursing consultant with the state health department, who is helping organize the program, said the workshop will deal with basic concepts of psychiatry, some practical considerations in the use of drugs in psychiatric therapy, commitment and discharge procedures, restoration of patients' civil rights and other legal considerations, and county referral, family care, and other community mental health programs.

Nurses will hear Dr. R. R. Cameron, medical superintendent of the hospital, tell of the past history of the institution, its current operation and future goals, followed by reports from the various department heads.

Registered professional and licensed practical nurses working in hospitals, nursing homes, county medical care facilities, schools, public health and other governmental agencies are invited.

Sen. Harts New Job Unpopular

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man who took over the chore of running the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee says "this is not the way to win a popularity contest, but someone has to do it."

He is Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., who was named Monday by Sen. James Eastland D-Miss., chairman of the parent Judiciary committee, to succeed the late Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn.

Hart, 50, is soft spoken and genial to friend and stranger alike and gives no appearance of being a tough, "trust busting" crusader. He does not believe there is inherent evil in "bigness" by itself, but he does believe the American consumer needs protection in Congress.

Hart made it plain he intends to make a thorough study of what the subcommittee now has under review before launching out into any new fields.

The subcommittee staff currently is making intensive studies into professional sports, reviewing the effectiveness of last year's drug act and various other matters.

"This job is something one just falls heir to," Hart said. "I feel it is as important as any assignment in Congress. I anticipate initially there will be no great change in the direction the subcommittee moves from the aims of Estes Kefauver."

Hart indicated he may pursue in the future one of Kefauver's pet-inquiries into professional baseball, football and other sports.

Hart, in accepting the chairmanship made this statement:

"The subcommittee's function is to serve as a watchdog for the free enterprise system. It always has been and should remain alert to see that competition is not threatened by monopolies, price-rigging agreements and criminal conspiracy."

Vocal Music Teacher Hired

The Manistique Board of Education Tuesday night received a signed contract from Frank Wareham of Marquette as vocal music instructor.

He will succeed Mrs. Beverly Moraco, who will teach in Escanaba. Wareham is a June graduate of Northern Michigan University.

In other business Tuesday night the board authorized use of the driver training car for coaches attending a meeting in Escanaba Aug. 23 and use of the car and purchase of gas for the recreation bus Aug. 24 for a practice game between the Manistique Emeralds and Soo Blue Devils at Newberry.

A candidate for school superintendent was also interviewed during the session. No formal decision had been made as of Wednesday afternoon.

Briefly Told

A 13-year-old boy has admitted to Manistique State Police he took fishing reels from a car parked at Gulliver. The Probate Court will be contacted.

State Police are investigating the theft of 50 gallons of gasoline from Conservation trucks and a crane on the road in Section 13 in Doyle township.

A ladies black purse, owned by Myrna Joye Larsen, 325 N. Houghton, was found in a ditch by the army by Joseph Bokron of Escanaba Tuesday and returned to the owner.

State Police have a complaint of a bad check issued by Herbert Thornton of Sault Ste. Marie, given at a motel in Seney, Thornton, who is now in Jackson prison, issued three $30 no-account checks, officers said.

State Police ticketed David M. Christenson, St. Ignace, speeding; Karl J. Valier, Gulliver, driving without lights; Thomas G. Arnold, 124 N. Second St., non-stop for private drive; Fredon Kramer, Tampa, Fla., too fast for conditions; James E. Pothier, South Range, Wis., speeding.

Public Safety officers were called at 8 a.m., Wednesday on a fire at the home of Abe Sebeck, 311 N. 1st St. The building is owned by Fred Lalonde. A fuse box in the wall shorted and ruined a refrigerator.

A car driven by Dolores Jean Tate, 20, of Aurora, Ill., was damaged when it was struck in the rear by a car driven by Victoria H. Pedersen, 39, of Racine, Wis., at 11:30 a.m., Tuesday. The Pedersen car was stopped behind another to permit a train to pass on U.S. 2 and Deer St.

David E. LaRose of Gulliver forfeited a $25 bond on a weighmaster ticket for overweight, and Lawrence K. Aldrich, Star Rte., paid fine of $20 and costs of $2 for overweight on a truckload.

MANISTIQUE

Hiawatha Forest Has Nepal Visitor

Nepal is modernizing its forestry practices and tractors power saws and loaders are being used in timber harvest, Narayan Prashad Upadhyay, 23, an assistant superintendent of logging for the Nepalese government, said here Wednesday on a tour of Hiawatha National Forest. The Nepal industry provides the chief income for the country.

Upadhyay, who spent four days on the forest, here and in Escanaba, said bears are a problem for woodsmen in his country and that they appeared to be larger than his contacts have indicated bear here are. Tigers, lions, leopards, wild elephants, rhinos, deer, wildcats and foxes are also in the Nepal forests, he said.

The U. P. visitor, here five months thus far on a government sponsored study of U. S. forestry, said he has visited forests, and industrial locations, such as sawmills and furniture factories. He has been in Washington, D. C., West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois. He will also visit the West Coast, chiefly in Washington as a guest of the Weyerhaeuser Co.

Upadhyay said he had been thinking of utilizing elephants for woods skidding, as is done in Burma, but since his U. S. visit, he has changed his mind and will probably try horses, such as he saw in West Virginia and other places, including Michigan. The elephants might be harder to train, he said.

Forestry is modernizing in his country, but is not as advanced as here, he stated. All production from Nepalese forests is for lumber; no paper is made. Saw, a heavy hardwood is used for building material; sisoon and champ for furniture, Saji, for planking. Tooni is a major softwood.

Airport Aids Indiana Pilot with Engine Trouble

Joseph P. Noel of Kokomo, Ind., pilot and sales representative for a service corporation, expressed appreciation for the intercom facilities and the Schoolcraft County airport after he developed engine trouble Tuesday afternoon on a flight with Mrs. Noel, and Mr. and Mrs. David F. Horton of Milwaukee aboard.

The group was five miles northeast of Gulliver at the time, enroute from Gore Bay, Canada, to Kokomo with a 175 Cessna.

They radioed to Manistique for standby and said they hoped to land before force-down. After the safe landing, they were met by Vern Bernard, operator.

The plane was left here for motor repair. The group got underway 1 1/2 hours after landing and called Kokomo for an Apache 3-plane plane to come for them.

They will return later in the week to get their aircraft.

Fortune Is Found Buried Under Mill

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Buried treasure continued to pour from the grounds of an old mill today with perhaps as much as a half million dollars uncovered by diggers.

The site is the Altman Mills feed plant four miles north of this southwestern Ohio city of about 14,000.

Workmen earlier in the week uncovered two 10-gallon milk cans stuffed with an estimated $350,000.

Early today a third five-gallon can was uncovered. It was stuffed with money.

Search for a fourth and perhaps other cans is under way. Money from the third can was

Treat Parents To Give Aid To Disturbed Child

WASHINGTON, D. C.—When a child is emotionally disturbed, it may be better to treat his parents and their relationships rather than the child.

Treating both parents in group therapy has met with "considerable success" at the Flint Child Guidance Clinic and at the Michigan State University Psychological Clinic, according to Dr. John R. Hurley of MSU and Dr. I. Leon Mazlish of the Flint clinic.

The psychologists presented their research data at the International Congress of Psychology in Washington, D. C.

They explained that the traditional psychological approach to a disturbed child is to treat the child or his mother. Fathers generally have played little part in therapeutic sessions.

In a switch from this, the Flint clinic began treating four or five couples in 12 to 15-week group therapy sessions in 1954. The MSU clinic followed with a similar program in 1959.

All the couples reported in the study originally approached the clinics with problems concerning their children. These problems ranged from poor school adjustment and sibling rivalry to delinquency and other serious maladjustments.

"Reports of an easing-up of marital difficulty, of improved behavior not only in the children referred to the clinics but in their siblings, and in the emotional climate of the family as a whole were reported during the last sessions of the groups, and in follow-ups in those cases where further aid in the clinics or referral to other agencies was needed," say the psychologists.

Bridge Winners At Golf Club Are Named

The Tuesday afternoon Women's Bridge group met at the Indian Lake Golf and Country Club for a 1 p.m. luncheon. Mrs. Wesley Orr Jr. of Grosse Pointe was an out of town guest. Prizes in bridge were awarded Mesdames William Cook, William Guinan and Ray Prine. The Aug. 27 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harold Klagstad. Members are to bring sandwiches. taken to the Troy National Bank for counting.

The finds came from under concrete pilings at the mill.

R. S. Altman, late owner of the mills, often had told relatives he did not trust banks.

A few hours before his death July 28 at the age of 76 in Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., Altman told a son and daughter he had buried all his money beneath the mill.

William Sutton of Pittsburgh, the family attorney who announced the first finds Wednesday night, said "We knew it was possible that old Mr. Altman was delirious and there was no expectation of finding anything buried there, money or otherwise."

Nearly a dozen workmen, all mill employees, began digging early Tuesday. They were guarded by Miami County Sheriff's deputies, and they dug nearly eight hours before their shovels struck metal.

Tied In Bundles

The money was undamaged in the unsealed cans—tied up in bundles of two or three inches in thickness, and in all denominations. Each bundle was wrapped in sheets of the Dayton Daily News dated Oct. 10-15, 1945.

The son and daughter who initiated the hunt are George J. Altman of Irwin, Pa., and Mrs. Mary Jane Ward of Troy.

The money will be kept at the Federal Reserve Bank in Cincinnati until the estate is settled.

New Ideas Can Assist Schools

Growing problems of the schools arising from the explosion both of population and knowledge in recent years, can be solved if the schools will make use in their own operations of some of the new technologies and procedures which are themselves a product of education. This is the view of Charles E. Bish, director of the Project for the Academically Talented sponsored since 1958 by the National Education Association.

Schools have now become a big business, Bish points out, adding that he sometimes wonders if they are tied too closely to a "pen and pencil age."

"Are we paying the teachers larger salaries each year to do things like making out the register?" he asks. "This is absurd. The good systems, some of them, are going to the use of punch cards and magnetic tape for data processing, just as the banks do."

Teaching For Teachers

"We must find ways to relieve teachers of the burdens of clerical work and other non-teaching duties. There are two ways of doing this. One is by employing more teacher aides — this is not done on anything like the scale that is needed. High school graduates could go into any high school I have ever seen and perform a tremendous number of tasks which now take up the time of teachers."

The time that teachers now spend in non-teaching chores, Bish suggests, might well be devoted to planning and inservice training so that they can keep up with the expansion of knowledge.

In addition to employment of teacher aides, Bish holds, much time could be saved by the use in school management of the new procedures and technologies commonly employed in industry. Equipment is available for handling scheduling of classes, keeping records of credits earned by teachers through summer study, payroll preparation and maintenance of supply records, all of which now require a great deal of the time of the professional staff.

Television and teaching machines will never take the place of the teacher in the classroom, Bish says, but they too have a contribution to make in the more efficient use of school resources.

Keeping Abreast

School enrollments have expanded greatly, Bish points out, both because there are now many more people and because people are staying in school longer than ever before. At the same time there has been a vast increase in the amount of knowledge, particularly in the physical sciences, so that the body of knowledge is far more than any one person can teach or learn. In the social sciences there are great areas of study which are being neglected, Bish suggests, referring particularly to the cultures of the emerging nations which are becoming important in world affairs.

Compounding the growth of population is the increasing mobility of the population, Bish notes. He quotes Margaret Mead, the anthropologist, as likening the situation to a giant egg beater, centered at about St. Louis, which is sending streams of people, mostly the disadvantaged from the South, into the urban centers of the North in ever increasing numbers.

The teacher must learn to cope with these new situations and "keep the store" while going back to school herself at summer sessions and during afternoon and evening hours so that she may stay abreast of developments in the subjects she teaches. This, Bish says, "is not easy to do."

Plowing Contest At Monroe Oct. 23

The 1963 Wisconsin mechanical corn picking contest is to be held at Monroe, Wis. Wednesday, Oct. 23, followed by the national contest on Oct. 24.

The machinery will cover 200 lots. Over 65 companies have arranged for exhibit space. Fields have been set aside for demonstrations of the latest in tillage tools and corn harvesting methods and the University of Wisconsin has approximately 300 rows of corn for demonstration of plow-planting operations and weed control methods.

The dairy committee of the Green County Agriculture Chest is planning a large dairy products promotional tent, in conjunction with the ADA, and Wisconsin Department of Agriculture. Alice in Dairyland will be present both days.

Gwinn Schools In New MEA District

The Gwinn Education Association has become a district of the Michigan Education Association in Region 17. The Gwinn District was formerly a chapter in the Marquette-Alger District. Its organization brings the number of MEA districts to 190.

The president of the new district is Ivan A. Ryan of Gwinn.

There are now 9 districts in Region 17 which includes Marquette, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta and Alger counties.

Miss Pierce, who is a graduate of Gladstone High School, has accepted a position at Mt. Sinai Hospital in Milwaukee.

Modern Asis Course Set For Peninsula

Asia in the Modern World is title of an inter-departmental field course to be presented by the University of Michigan Extension Service in the Upper Peninsula this fall. It will give two semester hours of graduate or undergraduate extension credit and will be presented in Iron River on Mondays beginning Sept. 9, Ironwood on Tuesdays, Ontonagon on Wednesdays, Houghton on Thursdays, Munising on Fridays and in Escanaba on Saturdays beginning Sept. 14.

Eleven professors of anthropology, geography, history, and political science will present the lectures.

Reserves May Get 6-Year Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

RESERVES: The House has sent President Kennedy a bill to require six years service for those who enlist in the reserves.

The duration of active duty would range from 4 to about 18 months, depending on the training required to qualify for a particular military specialty.

Reserve enlistment service obligations now vary.

Blacktop Work Scheduled Here

Payne & Dolon of Milwaukee, road contractors, will begin blacktopping the parking lot at All Saints Church and also complete several other similar-type jobs in the City of Gladstone, according to City Manager H. J. Henrikson.

Henrikson said that upon completion of the blacktop at the Church the contractors will move to the Gladstone Yacht Harbor where they will surface the access road leading from the highway to the yacht club.

The road, which previously ran alongside the southwest side of the club, has been moved to the southeast side. The former southwest road ran alongside the mooring dock of the yacht basin.

Following completion of this project, said Henrikson, the contracting firm will blacktop two blocks on Montana Ave. between 16th and 18th St.

The city manager pointed out that this project will depend on the wishes of the property owners in the area. "We have sent out estimates on the cost of the work to the property owners in this location and whether or not the work is done will depend on their approval of costs," Henrikson said.

Intelligence Is Rated A Package

By THELMA G. THURSTONE
University of North Carolina

Many people still think of intelligence as something all of a piece — something that some lucky souls have a lot of while others have only a little.

Research has shown that intelligence is not one thing, but a combination of several different abilities tied up in a package that is labeled intelligence.

There is an infinite variety in the intelligence packages, which come in all sizes and shapes.

After much teaching and research, psychologists have identified a number of different or primary mental abilities.

One of these, called the space factor, is the ability to visualize objects in space. This ability enables a youngster to judge ahead of time that there's enough room for him to ride his tricycle between the coffee table and the sofa.

Another primary ability is called the number factor. People who rate high in this do extremely well at simple arithmetic problems. Oddly enough, however, this ability doesn't help much in mathematical reasoning. Thus a successful mathematician might be fairly poor in the number factor, but a cashier would certainly lose his job unless the were fairly good in it.

Because so much learning depends on it, one of the most important primary mental abilities is verbal comprehension. Those with a good deal of this ability do well in tests of vocabulary or in tests that require them to interpret proverbs or to understand difficult prose.

Another verbal factor is word fluency. This involves producing words according to instructions rather than understanding them, like dashing off a list of girls' names or boys' names.

Verbal comprehension and word fluency are different mental abilities in the sense that one person may talk very fluently even though he has a limited vocabulary, and someone else may understand complicated prose and have a large vocabulary even though he has almost no talent for expressing himself in words.

Some of us have good memories and others have poor ones. The ability to memorize doesn't have much connection with other primary abilities — someone with a good memory may or may not be blessed with other primary abilities. There appear to be several distinct kinds of memory abilities.

One of the most interesting primary mental abilities is induction, the ability to discover the underlying rule or principle in material being worked with. We don't know yet whether this ability is associated with creativity.

The primary abilities have been detected in all young people, just about the same abilities are found at different ages, although some of the abilities develop much sooner than others. The space and number factors mature rather early while verbal comprehension matures rather late.

Some but not all of the primary abilities discussed can be developed by training, but if two children who differ in one primary ability drill for 100 hours in that ability the gifted child would certainly improve more than the less gifted one.

Both of them would no doubt improve.

There is more or less general agreement that the primary mental abilities are inherited, but the environment that a child grows up in and the strength of his desire to do well have a good deal of influence on how effectively he uses his abilities.

Briefly Told

State Police are investigating the breaking and entering of a cabin owned by the estate of the late Paul Connell of Plymouth, Ind., which occurred sometime since Aug. 10, in Masonville Township. The cabin, located just south of Kinran Resort, was entered by forcing the front door. Nothing has been determined taken.

William Pfeffer of Rte. 1, Gladstone reported to State Police that a 14-foot fiberglass boat owned by him was taken from its mooring across from the Bombay Motel Tuesday evening. The boat was dark green on the outside and light green inside.

State Police of the Gladstone Post ticketed the following motorists for traffic violations: John Bergquist, Limestone, speeding; Shuo Ruotsala, Rock, disregarding a stop sign; and Marion J. Beilstein of Norman, Ill., also for disregarding a stop sign.

Albert F. Dyer of Independence, Missouri reported to State Police that he struck and killed a deer at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday on U.S. 41, about two and eight-tenths miles south of County Road 432. Dyer, going south, told officers the animal jumped from the west side of the road and that he was unable to avoid hitting it. The Conservation Department was notified.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall returned to Franklin, Ohio, and Mrs. Helen Rogers, to Dayton after a few weeks' visit with Mrs. Roger's brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Fouts.

Mr. and Mrs. William Erzini and children of Lansing are visiting at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roins have returned to their home on Long Point after a business trip to East Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harrington of Findlay, Ohio, are spending some time at their summer home on Long Point on South Manistique Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hickson and Mrs. Hickson's mother, Mrs. Ida Bowman, spent some time at the Goostrees Resort on Big Manistique Lake. While fishing the Hicksons landed a walleye weighing 6 pounds and 4 ounces which has been entered in the Manistique Lakes Association contest.

Moving to Curtis

Mr. and Mrs. William Irbig of Springfield, Ohio, have purchased the property of Mrs. Prudence Strave on South Manistique Lake and are doing some remodeling. They have been summer visitors here since 1936 and will make Curtis their home.

Schools Opening

The Curtis Schools will open Sept. 3 at 10 a. m. The hot lunch program will begin Sept. 9.

At Council Workshop

Susan Lewis represented Newberry High School at a Student Council workshop held at the University of Michigan. She will visit friends at Marne before returning home.

Board Meeting

The Portage Township Board, at a business meeting at the Township Hall, voted unanimously to have a well drilled in the park on Big Manistique Lake.

Four Democrats On Commission

LANSING — Democrats kept a promise to Gov. George Romney today by appointing their four members to a temporary commission which will work on legislative apportionment.

The appointees, named by State Chairman Zolton Ferency, were selected with the approval of party leaders and will be automatically certified by the Democratic State

Central Committee in mid-September, a spokesman said.

Romney and Democrats came to terms in an emergency meeting Monday in their dispute over the conditions under which the temporary commission would be appointed. The governor agreed to ask the legislature to give the commission legal status and to provide it with operating funds.

Democrats then agreed to appoint their four members to speed the work of the commission.

Named by the Democrats were: Henry Dongvillo, Fountain; Richard Austin, Detroit; A. Robert Kleiner, Grand Rapids; and Ivan Brown, Iron Mountain.

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

The Menominee Maroons, cut loose from the Big Rivers Conference this year, have come up with an attractive football season schedule. Coach John Knispel's gridders will open with Escanaba here Aug. 31 and then meet, in order, Marquette, Holy Name, Kingsford, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Antigo and Marinette. The game with Holy Name, at Menominee Sept. 14, will be the first in history between the schools.

Reno Petteuzzo continues to turn in astounding mound performances for the Carlings team in the Soo Intercity team. The 21 year old Canadian ace ran his season record to 18-1 with a 4-0 victory over Soo Bosch in a league playoff game this week. Petteuzzo allowed only two hits and fanned 17 batsmen. Petteuzzo, incidentally, won the league's regular season batting championship with a .386 average.

If a national Golden Gloves tournament is held in 1964 it will be in Louisville, Ky., in February. The Chicago Tribune dropped a bomb in amateur boxing ranks by announcing it would discontinue promotion of the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions following last year's tourney. The Tribune had sponsored the tournament annually since 1928. If the Golden Gloves Assn. of America fails in its efforts to overcome a national AAU requirement that boxers wear headgears in the ring, there will be no national GG tourney.

The Upper Peninsula Field Archery Assn. will stage its 1963 championship meet, final event of the season, in Marquette Sept. 1. The event will be held on the range of the Marquette Deer-track Bowmen.

Stephenson won the Upper Peninsula junior baseball tournament championship at Chatham last weekend, beating Negaunee in the finals behind outstanding pitching of 15 year old Roger Wood. Laurie Kallio masterminds the annual tournament for junior teams that are not affiliated with a national organization, such as Babe Ruth.

Ira (Hack) Hansen, former coach at Nahma who is now on the staff at the Newberry State Hospital, pitched Bosch to an 8-2 victory over Blatz in the Newberry Softball league. Bill Kallio slammed a bases loaded homer as Bosch won its 13th game in 15 starts this season.

Paul Coppo, former Copper Country star athlete who plays for the Green Bay Bobcat hockey team in the winter months, recently turned his talents to baseball. He pitched Seymour to an 8-1 victory over Little Chute, giving up only one hit and striking out 18 batsmen.

Girls Softball Tournament Set

The five team Escanaba Girls Softball league will stage a double elimination championship tournament at Memorial Field starting Monday night.

Competing will be State Bank, managed by Don Martineau; Jugs, managed by Roger Swanson; Crusaders, managed by John Martinac; Astronauts, managed by Will Clark, and Nurses, managed by Pete Hirn.

The tournament will open with a game between State Bank and Jugs at 6:30 Monday. Astronauts and Nurses will meet in the second game at 8.

Winner of the State Bank-Jugs game will face the Crusaders, who drew a first round bye, at 7:30 Tuesday.

Games Wednesday will be at 6:30 and 8 and the tournament will continue through Sunday with the championship game slated for 7 p. m.

The opening round schedule:

Monday

6:30 — State vs. Jugs

8 — Astronauts vs. Nurses

Tuesday

7:30 — Crusaders vs. State Bank-Jugs winner

Wednesday

6:30 — State Bank-Jugs loser vs. Astronauts-Nurses loser

Packers Meet Bears Saturday

GREEN BAY—The Green Bay Packers meet the Chicago Bears Saturday night at Milwaukee County Stadium in the 14th Annual Midwest Shrine Classic. The colorful Shrine ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 7:30 and kickoff at 8.

The Midwest Shrine Game has become firmly established as an outstanding classic. This year's contest will again be between two of the nations best matched teams with the oldest natural rivalry in pro football.

Shrinedom's own unbeatable pageantry with over 1,000 colorful marching units will appear before the game and at halftime.

The Packer-Bear Shrine rivalry began in 1959. The Bears won that first meeting 19-16 on a Zeke Bratkowski to Rick Casares pass in the last 25 seconds. This was the Packers' first game under Vince Lombardi and one of the three losses a Lombardi team has suffered in pre-season play. The others were a 14-0 loss to the Giants in Bangor, Maine, also in 1959, and to the College All-Stars this year by a 20-10 score.

Fitzharris Tops Twilight Golfers

Harriet Fitzharris led the Escanaba Country Club women's twilight league golfers with a 45 Wednesday.

Event winners were Sally Fontaine and Betty Gauthier in the first flight, Betty Flynn and DeDe Bonifas in the second flight, Delores Winters and Shirley Pel-tier in the third flight.

Other low scores were Doris Swanson with 47, Gloria Hansley, Ruth Owen and Rosemary Le-Mire 48, Betty Gauthier and Marie Wicklander 49, Lois Nelson 50.

Team standings: Six Shooters 66½, Swanie's Swingers 64½, Golf Bags 61, Rosie's Rompers 57, Wicky Slickers 56, Lucky Six 55½, Boyce's Bouncers 42, Unpredictables 35½, Fittz's Witches 35½, Peg's Pills 35.

The State Bank defeated the Nurses 9-6 in Wednesday's league game at Royce Park.

Lynch Sets Mark For Pinch Homers

CHICAGO (AP) — "The good Lord has been good to me. He had to be because nobody could be that lucky."

That's how Jerry Lynch, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, explained his feelings after hitting his major league record-breaking 15th pinch home run Wednesday. His ninth-inning drive into the right field bleachers at Wrigley Field produced the new mark as well as a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

"The first thing I did was call my wife and four kids back in Pittsburgh," said the 33-year-old Lynch. "It was my greatest thrill in baseball, and I've had a few. Eight or nine of my pinch homers have won or tied games for my team. You always enjoy a homer, but not nearly as much in a losing cause."

Lynch's record-tying and record-making pinch homers were spaced just one month apart, and both against the Cubs as well as of the same pitcher—Lindy McDaniel.

It was July 21 in Pittsburgh a pinch homer in the ninth good when Lynch frisked McDaniel for three runs and a 5-5 tie before the Pirates went on to win 6-3 in 14 innings.

"It's funny I should get the two homers off Lindy with exactly opposite kind of pitches," Lynch said. "In Pittsburgh a month ago I hit a low fork ball. Today with the count of 3 and 1 he gave me a high fast ball."

The record-maker was Lynch's 12th homer of the year, and second in as many games against the Cubs.

In his collection of 15 pinch homers Lynch has hit six off Cub pitchers and three off McDaniel. Jerry's first off Lindy came Aug. 8, 1961, in St. Louis when McDaniel still was pitching for the Cardinals.

His feat erased the record 14 of his former Cincinnati teammate, George Crowe.

Mead's Todd Butler showed Ishpeming Casino his special brand of mound magic as the Upper Peninsula Class B softball championship tournament opened under the lights at Memorial Field Wednesday night.

Butler flashed a three-hitter and whiffed 13 enemy batsmen as the Escanaba Paper Mill team fashioned a 4-1 triumph. The broad shouldered chucker put the victory on ice with a two-run homer in the third, smashing a liner over the center field fence.

Iron Mountain White Star Tavern won last night's tourney opener, edging Remillard's Bar of Marquette 3-2.

Bill Uren gave Remillard's only three hits, all singles coming in the first and second innings. Mel Parker went the route for the Marquette club and was nicked for five safeties.

White Star put two runs across in the first frame on singles by Clarence Baker, Hugh Ray and Norm Verley with a sacrifice by Jim LaPoint. Remillard's tallied once in the first, Bill Gorst scoring on Stan Ferris' single.

White Star's winning run came in the last of the sixth with Verley stroking a double to center field and scoring on an error by the fielder. Remillard's threatened in the top of the seventh with two runners aboard but Uren struck out the last two batters to end the contest.

Butler had the Ishpeming batsmen eating out of his hand. He whiffed 11 in the first five innings before Casino got its first hit, a soft single over second base by Tom Gleason as leadoff man in the sixth.

Action will resume tonight with two games in which Escanaba district teams will see action. The Merchants face Chatham in the opener at 7 and Flat Rock takes on Gwynn Steen's at 8:30.

Mead's victory sends the Escanaba team into a game Friday night against the White Star team. Last night's losers, Remillard's and Casino, also meet Friday night with the loser bowing out of the tournament.

Detroit Gets Outstate Help

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's out-state communities have been lending Detroit a hand in its bid to bring the 1968 Olympic Games here, the Detroit Olympic Committee reports.

An anonymous volunteer from a central Michigan town called Olympic headquarters in Detroit with the message:

"I've got $131 for you but the banker won't be back from vacation for a few days. Will it be all right if I wait until then and send you $200 even?"

The committee said Robert Hicks, the resident manager of the Alma Piston Co., has raised $1,000 and still is working.

Groups have been organized in Detroit and its suburbs to help raise the $400,000 needed to finance the city's bid for the games. The committee's executive group, including Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and Gov. George Romney will go before International Olympic Committee (IOC) in October.

It was disclosed Wednesday that $120,000 already has been raised.

All of Detroit's television stations will broadcast a telethon Sept. 7 with the goal of raising $100,000.

The IOC will decide between Detroit, Mexico City, Lyon, France and Buenos Aires.

Blanda Gets Starting Job

By The Associated Press

George Blanda, the graybeard quarterback who fights for his job against the fuzzi-cheeks every summer and usually wins it, will lead the Houston Oilers against the San Diego Chargers tonight as professional football kicks off another busy weekend of exhibitions.

The game at Houston represents the first home appearance of the Oilers, who have bounced back to win two games since taking a 27-10 cuffing from the Denver Broncos in their pre-season opener. Blanda, beginning his 14th pro season, was primarily responsible for the second one—a 21-20 victory at Bos ton last week after the Oilers trailed 20-0 at the half.

The San Diego-Houston struggle is the first of 11 games on the pro schedule in the next four days.

On Friday night, Denver is at Kansas City in the AFL, on Saturday, Boston is at Buffalo, and in the National League, Chicago plays Green Bay at Milwaukee, Baltimore meets Pittsburgh at Atlanta, Detroit meets St. Louis at Omaha, Philadelphia plays Washington at Charlotte, and Dallas goes against Los Angeles at Portland, Ore., all in night games.

On Sunday, the NFL has two games—Cleveland at San Francisco and New York at Minnesota; and in the AFL, its New York at Oakland.

Golf Big Boys Bear Watching

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Watch the big boys. That's the word in the American Golf Classic, a 72-hole test which begins Thursday and winds up Sunday.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Julius Boros are favored because of their ability to master long, tough courses. The 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course is one of the longest and toughest in the country.

Most of the players competing agree that if Palmer and Nicklaus are hitting their drives the $50,000 tournament, with a top prize of $9,000, could become a two-man show.

Boros, the U.S. Open champion, is enjoying one of his best years and the 43-year-old veteran ranks as a strong contender.

Although the long hitters are getting all the attention, one man who shouldn't be overlooked is little Gary Player. He has not been on the tour since the PGA a month ago and is well rested.

Player started off with a bang in a practice round Wednesday. He had a birdie, an eagle and another birdie on the first three holes and finished with a two-under-par 68.

Palmer won the Classic last year with a four-round course record of 276. He indicated he'll be just as tough this year when he shot a one-under-par 69 in a playoff Tuesday against Phil Rodgers and Jacky Cupit to win the fourth and final berth in the World Series of Golf, which is scheduled at the Firestone course Sept. 7-8.

Year's Top Crowd Sees Dodgers Nip Cardinals In 16th

By The Associated Press

Johnny Roseboro, who probably has set a world record for deep knee bends, ripped a line single just before the clock struck midnight at Los Angeles that may have tolled the end of St. Louis' National League pennant hopes.

The Dodger catcher singled past third base, scoring Ken McMullen, who had doubled, with the winning run in a 16-inning marathon that gave the first-place Dodgers a 2-1 decision over the Cardinals and a 7½-game lead.

That sent the largest crowd of the year—54,125—home happy despite their failure to see Sandy Koufax get his 20th victory. The ace Los Angeles left-hander left for a pinch hitter in the 12th after allowing nine hits.

Koufax, however, did achieve another distinction in his battle with Cardinal starter Curt Simmons, who retired for a pinch swinger in the 14th after pitching a seven-hitter. In the 12th, Koufax struck out Tim McCarver for the 1,400th strikeout of his career.

The triumph, the Dodgers seventh in a row and sixth straight against the Cardinals, also dropped defending champion San Francisco another long back. The Giants fell 8½ behind, losing their fifth in a row, 6-2 to Milwaukee as Eddie Mathews hit two homers for the Braves.

Elsewhere, Houston's Don Nottbart, who allowed a run when he pitched a no-hitter against Philadelphia May 17, posted his first shutout with a four-hit, 1-0 victory over Cincinnati, and Jerry Lynch set a major league record with his 15th pinch-hit homer, a ninth-inning shot that gave Pittsburgh a 7-6 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

The New York Mets and Philadelphia were rained out.

The American League-leading New York Yankees swept a two-nighter from Cleveland by identical 3-1 scores, the Chicago White Sox belted Boston 7-1, Minnesota defeated Detroit 12-1, Washington defeated Kansas City 5-1 and the Los Angeles Angels edged Baltimore 3-2 after the Orioles won the opener of a two-nighter 7-4.

The Dodgers scored first, getting a run in the third on a double by Jim Gilliam and Frank Howard's single, but the Cardinals got even in the sixth when Ken Boyer singled and eventually came across on Julian Javier's ground-er. It stayed at 1-1 until the 16th when, with two out, McMullen bounced a ground rule double over the center field fence and Roseboro followed with his clincher, Larry Sherry, 2-4, was the winner, with Ron Taylor, 7-5, taking the loss.

Brian Gorman of Mendon, Mich., has 79-74—153 and is tied for third in the novice division.

Yankees, Indians Explode In Fist-Swinging Episode

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

"When I played ball, the only guys we threw at were 300 hitters, Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts said wryly. "Hell, the Yankees haven't got any."

Joe Pepitone is hitting .275. Umpire Tom DiMuro figures that's good enough to get thrown at him."

Either way you look at it, for three minutes an explosive situation rocked Yankee Stadium Wednesday night at the tail end of the New York Yankees double-header sweep over Cleveland by identical 3-1 scores.

Pepitone, who punched out four hits in the double-header, wound up throwing 'em after he was hit by a pitch for the second time in the eighth inning of the second game. He was hit on the wrist by Barry Latman in the third, then nicked by Gary Bell.

He started toward the mound and was restrained by Umpire DiMuro, who told Bell he was being fined $50 for throwing a beanball. Pepitone then jogged to first, turned and started again toward the mound. He was grabbed by first baseman Fred Whitfield and, within seconds, players were flailing away all over the field.

"All the balls I saw thrown were low," said Tebbetts, "except the ones they (Stan Williams) were throwing."

"I'm not mad at anybody," said Pepitone. "After I was hit the second time I yelled at Bell, he yelled at me and pretty soon we were calling each other names. I just got upset and headed for him."

"I wasn't trying to hit him," said Bell, "and I'm not mad at him. But one word led to another."

It also led to Pepitone's ejection and four casualties — Cleveland infielders Larry Brown and Dick Howser, who suffered leg cuts, and managers Tebbetts and Ralph Houk of the Yankees, who were acting as peacemakers.

Houk suffered a muscle pull in his right thigh and Tebbetts was stepped on and spiked—by Pepitone, he said.

The twin victories increased the Yankees' American League lead to 10 games over the Chicago White Sox, who whipped Boston 7-1 as Gary Peters posted his ninth consecutive victory with a six-hitter. Minnesota walloped Detroit 12-1, Washington took Kansas City 5-1, and Baltimore and the Los Angeles Angels split. The Orioles won 7-3 as Steve Barber became

Ex-Champs Clash At Gladstone In Tourney Finals

GLADSTONE—Will the REAL Gladstone Golf Club women's champion please stand up?

She will do just that this afternoon after a pair of former champions complete their title match at the Days River course.

Meeting for the 1963 crown are defending titlist Dot Coulter and ex-champ Bev Farrell, who survived semifinal matches Wednesday.

Coulter sidelined Joan Anderson and Bev Farrell, shooting a 45-44—89, defeated another former champion, DeDe Peterson 2 up on the 18th hole. Peterson had rounds of 44 and 46.

Wednesday's results:
Championship Flight
Dot Coulter over Joan Anderson, 3 and 2
Bev Farrell over DeDe Peterson 2 up 28th hole

With them at Taconic Golf Club was defender JoAnne Gunderson of Providence, R.I.; former queen Mrs. Ann Quast Welts of Seattle; 20-year-old Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis.; Judy Bell of Colorado Springs, and veterans Mrs. Helen Sigel Wilson of Gladwyne, Pa., and Mrs. Phillis Semple of Sewickley, Pa.

Three-time-winner Miss Gunderson, the weekend golfer who plays as if all the days are Saturday and Sunday, still was the big favorite.

But little Mrs. Welts was coming on like a late arrival at a free lunch on the basis of her play in Wednesday's third and fourth rounds.

The dark-haired attractive stylist eliminated two formidable opponents while firing two-under-par golf for her 30 holes.

She knocked off Nancy Roth of Elkhart, Ind., 2 and 1 in her morning round, defeating a girl who won four straight tournaments in Florida last winter, and then disposed of Mrs. Scott L. Probasco of Chattanooga, Tenn., 6 and 5 in the afternoon.

Junior Golfers Complete Meet

The Escanaba Country Club junior golf tournament will be completed in all divisions today with a noon luncheon at which awards will be presented.

Winners of Beginner divisions were Mary Zeni, Steve Muncy and Brian Douglas.

Finalists in the senior girls division, meeting today, are Mary Harvey and Chris Barron. Diane Shomin and Mary Walbridge are finalists in the junior girls class.

Meeting in semifinals of the junior boys division will be Bill Van Effen-Bob Barron and Ken Mulvaney-Steve Kleiman.

Football Rules Meeting Friday

A 1963 football rules meeting for coaches and officials of the area will be held at the Escanaba Area Public High School, Room A 305-306, Friday, Aug. 23, starting at 8 p. m.

Allen W. Bush, associate state director of the Michigan High School Athletic Assn., will discuss rules changes, interpretations and other association matters. The movie "This Is Football" will be shown.

The main entrance of the new high school, off 23rd Street, will be used.

Gladstone Grid Scrimmage Set

GLADSTONE—Coach Don Pfo-tenhauer's Gladstone football team will travel to Negaunee Friday for a pre-season scrimmage with the Miners.

The Braves are drilling daily for their 1963 season opener against the Norway Vikings of the Menominee Range Conference here Aug. 31.

Forest Echoes With Music At First U.P. Band Camp

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The sweet call of clarinets came from the group of young musicians at the top of the hill, cornets gave a stirring reply from beyond the recreation hall, and French horns echoed across Clear Lake in Hiawatha National Forest where the Junior High School Band Camp is being held this week.

There are 71 students at the camp, first of its kind in the Upper Peninsula. All of them come from the Escanaba Area Public Schools district.

Dave Laakso, camp director, said he would like one point emphasized for "the benefit of the taxpayers."

"The Junior Band Camp project is completely self-supporting," he said. "Our funds come from tuition, receipts from concerts and candy sales, plus scholarships from the Lemmer School PTA, Kiwanis Club and individuals."

Good Musicians

There are 86 persons at camp, the budget for the week is approximately $1,500, and tuition cost to each young musician is $20 for the week—and this includes his meals, room, board and lessons.

Laakso, who is Escanaba Area Junior High School band instructor, is practical about money but he prefers to discuss the students, music and the instructional staff. We sat beneath the birches on the hill overlooking the lake.

"I'm so proud of these kids," he said enthusiastically. "We have some really wonderful musicians here. They play so well—better than I did when I was their age. This camp experience is good for all of us. It will bring the students through the summer without a slump we sometimes experience, and we have all found it musically stimulating."

Enthusiasm Is High

The camp program is a stimulating one, certainly. There's a full schedule of band rehearsals, private lessons, some teaching of basic music theory, beginning marching band, plus more advanced musicianship.

The instructional staff is more than competent—it shares with Laakso the confidence in youth and the enthusiasm of the dedicated teacher.

Ray Uhlinger (he is T. Raymond Uhlinger at Northern Michigan University where he is a professor of music) has a jolly manner, a high degree of musicianship, and the ability to inspire students to hard work. He has taught at Interlochen several summers.

Harold W. Rusch, teacher and composer, is author of "Fifty-Five Ensemble Studies" which is a standard method book in many schools, including Escanaba Area. Rusch, finishing with a clarinet group, watched the students pack up their instruments and music. "Oh girls," he called, "don't forget to pick up all those wild notes we dropped over there!" They giggled appreciatively.

Work And Recreation

James Keranen is a young man who is a fine musician and an instructor in the Gwinn Public Schools. Another member of the staff is John Chown, Escanaba Area Senior High School band instructor. Chown had a hand in getting the camp organized, has been helpful in many ways. "He's also the camp's official bugler," Laakso smiled.

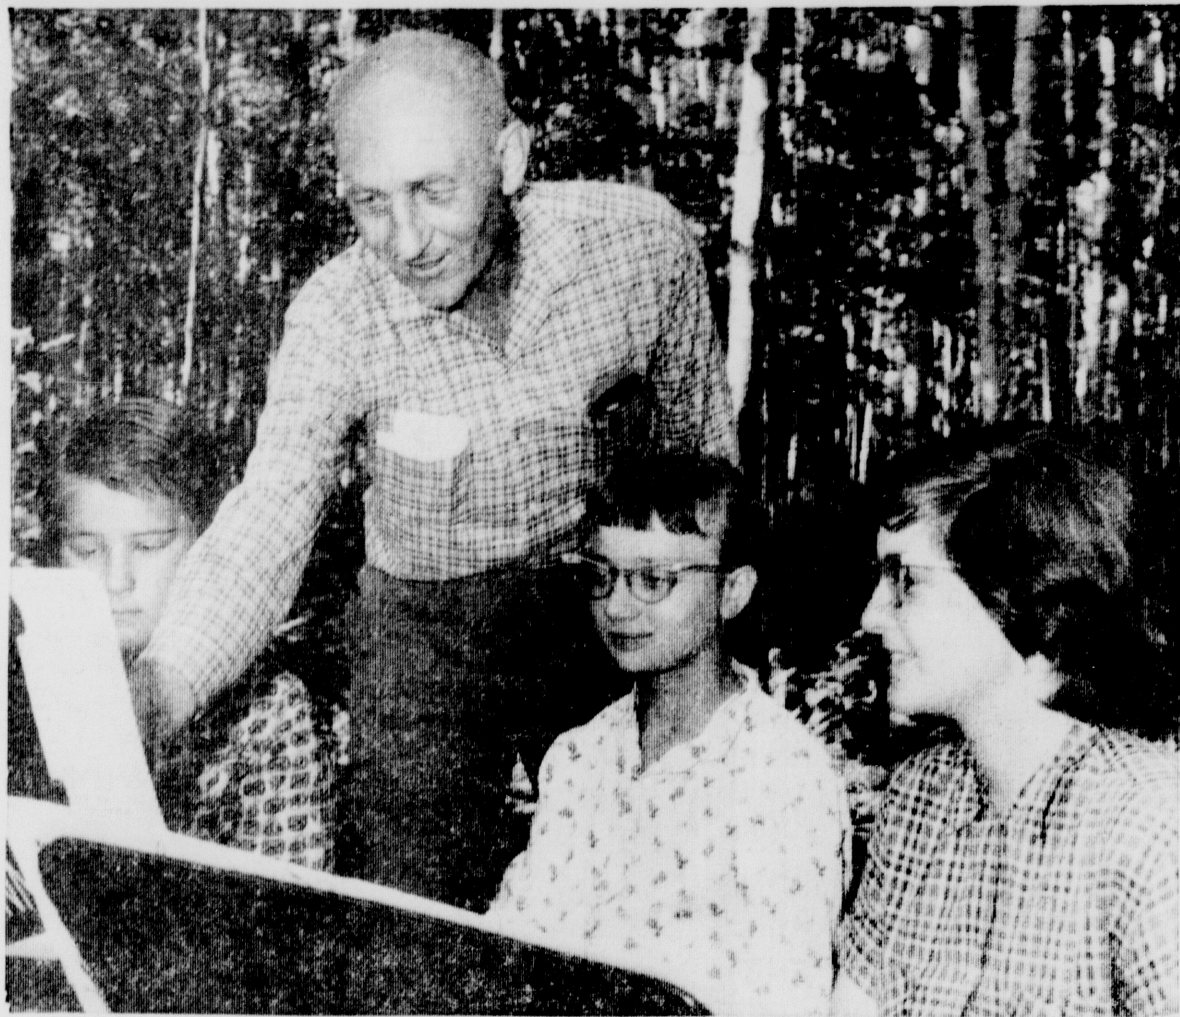

The recreation program has Glen Gamble, Escanaba teacher, as its supervisor. There are games and other contests, boating and the ever-popular swimming. There are nine cabin counselors, all outstanding musicians in high school.

Kathy LaPorte, who plays the flute, will attend Northern Michigan University next fall; Julie Garrard, oboe, will go to Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo; Linnea Olson, French Horn, is to attend Lawrence College at Appleton. Still in high school are counselors Sandy Makinen, saxophone; Tom Schmeltzer, trombone; Phil Brown, percussion; Bruce Douglas, clarinet; and Lawrence Blahnik, cornet.

Concert On Saturday

The group camping experience, a first for some of the boys and girls, is in itself exciting and valuable in learning how to get along with others while away from home—for some of the youngsters it is the first time they have been away from home for several days. But cabin counselors are quick to detect homesickness. Everyone is kept busy with music and chores. They maintain their own cabins and the "keepers of the cleanest cabin" are first in line for meals.

Camp will end after a concert to be presented in a natural amphitheatre in the hills at 2 p. m. on Saturday, Aug. 24. Parents, families and friends will gather at Clear Lake for the day and will, after the concert, return the young campers to their homes.

Believe Stolen Car Taken By Escapee

State Police reported today that a 1954 Ford coach was stolen from the area where Harold Jones, 36, escapee from Marquette State Prison honor farm, was last seen. It is believed the car was taken by the convict as a means of escape.

Sgt. Hugh E. Pope, Commander of the Gladstone State Police Post, said the theft was reported to the Munising Post by the owner of the vehicle, who told them it was taken sometime Wednesday evening. He also told police the car had a full tank of gasoline and the keys were left in the auto.

License number of the car, light blue in color, is YC 4174.

State Police said they are still receiving numerous calls from residents who report seeing Jones, but investigations have proven them all groundless. When last seen Jones was still wearing brown denim trousers and a white shirt.

Sgt. Pope said since the car has not been reported seen or recovered there is the possibility it would indicate the escapee is no longer in the area. However, troopers are still continuing their search for the prisoner.

A $50 reward has been offered for information leading to the whereabouts of the escaped convict. Anyone having such information is asked to call the nearest law enforcement agency.

Salvation Army Badly In Need Of 1963 Funds

The Salvation Army drive for funds to complete its work in 1963 must continue, William L. Marble, chairman of the advisory board, announces.

"The campaign fell far short and we must continue to try to raise money if the Salvation Army is to do the good job it customarily does the rest of this year," he said.

The United Fund, now to be called the United Charities, will have a drive this fall, and the Salvation Army will be one of the participating agencies, but this money will be for the 1964 program, it was pointed out.

Thus, the only way the Salvation Army can raise money for use this year is by conducting its own drive.

Residents of Delta County who have not yet contributed are asked to telephone the Salvation Army, ST6-0590, and a solicitor will call. Donations also may be mailed to the Salvation Army, 112 North 15th St., Escanaba, Mich.

U.P. Hasn't Had Share Of Boom Felt Downstate

Upper Michigan "has not shared adequately" in the state's recent prosperity, according to a Detroit trade journal.

The comment is made in "Michigan Trends," a Detroit publication of Raymond E. Danto & Associates circulated in the business, financial, commercial and industrial communities.

The August issue of "Michigan Trends" says: "During the next quarter the auto industry is expected to produce at a record rate and as a result employment, income and spending in Michigan will be above last year's rates."

"By the end of November total business activity in the state is expected to be approximately five per cent above November, 1962."

The substantial increased activity forecast for construction, electric power consumption, manufacturing, mining, retail stores, government and services is expected to increase payrolls about $15 million over the August rate and about four per cent over November, 1962.

"The stability in employment at high levels and substantial overtime pay have contributed significantly to restoring the confidence of Michigan residents and consequently has resulted in record retail sales."

"Unfortunately, Michigan's Upper Peninsula has not shared adequately in the state's recent prosperity."

Predict Showers Tonight, Friday

Occasional showers are forecast for tonight and Friday morning in the Escanaba area, with increasing cloudiness this afternoon. The low tonight will be 62 and the high Friday in the 70's.

Winds will be south to southwest tonight up to 20 miles per hour. Skies will clear Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday will be clear and mild.

Retirement Note

Potential retirees should file their social security claims before they retire in order to insure prompt payment of benefits," says Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba.

Many people of retirement age do not get their first social security checks as early as they might because they wait too long to apply for their benefits, Williams said.

Mrs. Anna Day Taken By Death

Mrs. Anna Alvina Day, 75, of 1809 Ludington St., died at 9:15 a. m. today at the Delta Nursing Home where she had been a patient the past eight months. She was born in Perkins July 7, 1888, and had lived in Escanaba 36 years. She was a member of Bethany Lutheran Church and of the Royal Neighbors Society.

Her husband, Edmund, died Dec. 6, 1961. Surviving are three sons, Earl of Vassar, Mich., Wallace, Gladstone, and Leslie, Wilmington, Ill., eight daughters, Mrs. Ella Palkingham, Minneapolis, Mrs. Myrtle Kennedy, South Lyon, Mich., Mrs. Evelyn Bergquist and Mrs. Dorothy Walling, Minneapolis, Mrs. Ruby Skeffington, Hopkins, Minn., Mrs. Bertha Wurl, Tomahawk, Wis., Mrs. Lois Swift, Gladstone, and Mrs. Shirley Trombley, Gladstone Rte. 1, 36 grandchildren, 13 great grandchildren and two brothers and two sisters.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home after 4 p. m. Friday. Complete services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the funeral home chapel. Pastor Walfred Nelson of Bethany Lutheran Church will officiate. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Clinic Owner. Fatally Stabbed

DETROIT (AP)—A former mental patient was held for investigation today in the stabbing death of Thomas Houle, 57.

Houle's body was found Wednesday in an office of the downtown Detroit hair and scalp clinic he owned.

Charles Lafian, 33, a former inmate of the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, was picked up by police about four hours after Houle's body was found. Officers said Lafian told them he had been at Houle's clinic Wednesday but denied any knowledge of the slaying.

Officers said they found a bloody pair of shoes at Lafian's home and said the man had cuts on his hands and face.

the anti-discrimination rules for selling or leasing would only apply if there were accommodations for more than three families.

Another proposed draft would allow no exceptions to the commission's proposed authority to regulate the sale or rental of private houses.

The subcommittee devoted most of its session Wednesday to education, and decided to recommend that the terms of the governing boards of Michigan's three largest universities be extended by one year.

The extension, if adopted by the legislature, would apply to the University of Michigan regents, the Michigan State University trustees and the Wayne State University governors.

Newberry

John Francis Lesatz, 19, of Engadine charged with simple larceny from St. Gregory's Church Saturday was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Whitmarsh Monday. He pleaded guilty to taking clothing from the church basement. The warrant was held open for 90 days, and $5 court costs were paid. A juvenile involved in the case was turned over to the Probate Court of Mackinac County.

Mr. and Mrs. Dent Newville drove to Sault, Ont., to meet their daughter, Sally, who flew from New York City, Wednesday, and who will visit her parents here a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson of Escanaba are spending some time at Curtis at the cottage of the latter's uncle, Bill Larson, of Newberry.

Admissions to the Tahquamenon Hospital this week were Dr. William Prevotte of Pontiac; Earl Sullivan, Detroit; Ed Stephens, Reynolds Gibson, Matt Frasier, Sr., Anne Kelley, Abe Jerrells, Newberry; Paula Stehel, Curtis; Linda Fair, Tynne Rintamaki and Judy Carroll, Newberry and Mrs. Harry Harriger.

Bith

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sadler of Engadine, Tuesday, Aug. 20 at the Tahquamenon Hospital at 7:05 a.m. The baby's weight was 7 pounds 14 1/2 ounces.

Briefly Told

Mrs. Rachel (Newmark) Snyder of 1336 Mission Ave. N.W. Washington, D. C., a former Newberry resident is presently visiting here. Mrs. Snyder was the former Rachel Newmark and lived here between 1900 and 1915.

Arne Rafael Pohja was arrested Tuesday by State Police for having no operator's license to drive.

The Bishops Committee of All Saints' Episcopal Church have announced that Rev. Mr. Harold Wagner, retired priest, of Brevort Lake will conduct services until a new Vicar is sent to Newberry. Rev. Wagner will have the Order of Holy Communion on alternate Sundays, starting Aug. 24.

City Briefs

The Tahquamenon Sportsmens Club will hold a special meeting at the clubhouse on Friday, Aug. 23 at 8 p.m. for the purpose of meeting the club's candidate for Miss Tahquamenon, Miss Judy Lackey, at the T. O. M. A. Water Carnival on Labor Day weekend and to complete plans for operating the concession at Round Lake at the boat races.

All-Time High Paid 4-H Members For Fair Exhibits

Final tabulations of premiums paid to exhibitors at the U. P. State Fair shows that 4-H Club members from throughout the Upper Peninsula collected a record high of $11,500, nearly half of the $25,000 offered in premiums at this year's fair.

Larry Bradford, county extension agent, MSU, said that Delta County's share of the total purse was $2,010.90, an increase of about $660 over last year when local 4-H members walked off with $1,350 in prize money. He attributed the increase in premium money won to an increase in enrollment and better class of exhibits.

Of the local county entries Betty Lou Johnson, Rte. 1, Escanaba, received the largest amount, $106, for her entries in dairy and beef cattle. Second largest winner was Nick Dalgord of Fayette, who received $71 for his beef entries.

Four other top winners financially were: Kathy Desjardin of Danforth, $47 for dairy cattle and general entries; Corrine LaMarche, Rte. 1, Escanaba, $46 for beef and general exhibits; Nancy Weldum, Rock, $46 for poultry and general exhibits; and Jackie Dietrich of Hyde, $38 for beef entries and general exhibits.

According to Bradford there were 255 members of 4-H Clubs with exhibits entered at the U. P. State Fair making up a total of 600 exhibits.

He said he largest single class exhibit was in gardening with 120 4-H members entered. The second largest was foods (preservation and preparation) with 100 4-H exhibits; and the third, flower gardening, where 55 members entered their products.

Pleads Not Guilty To Driving Charge

An Escanaba man, John I. Sundberg, 35, of 1825 22nd Ave. S., pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol, when arraigned before Justice Ross P. Davis in Gladstone today.

Sundberg posted a $50 bond to assure his appearance at a hearing which will be set for a later date.

He was arrested by State Police for investigation of the charge at 11:25 p. m. Wednesday on U. S. 2-41, near County Road 426, after officers observed him speeding and driving erratically. He was held in the county jail pending arraignment today on the charge.
